

Having broken one Super Bowl record, the 49ers proceeded to shatter another, scoring on two Ray Wersching field goals just 13 seconds apart in the final minute of the first half.

The first, a 26-yarder, came 15 seconds short of halftime. Then, on the kickoff, Cincinnati's Archie Griffin fumbled the ball, and so did his brother Ray. Milt McColl fell on it for the 49ers, and, after an illegal procedure penalty pushed them back 5 yards to the 10, Wersching kicked a 22-yarder with two seconds left on the clock.

Pittsburgh had scored twice 19 seconds apart against Dallas in Super Bowl XIII.

The two field goals gave the 49ers a 20-0 lead, the most lopsided halftime score in Super Bowl history.

The Bengals' second-half charge cut the 49ers lead to 20-14 with 10:06 to play, and San Francisco's situation was suddenly very precarious. But the 49ers' offense, which had turned sluggish and conservative, woke up behind Montana's 22-yard pass to Mike Wilson and Ricky Patton's key runs to set up Wersching's third field goal, a 40-yard boomer with 5:25 to play. That opened a 23-14 margin.

Then Wright, the rookie right cornerback, nailed the spike in the Bengals' coffin, intercepting Anderson near midfield with 5:07 to go and racing 25 yards to the Cincinnati 22-yard line.

From then on, it was just a matter of time, and the 49ers ate it up. They stayed on the ground as the seconds ticked away, punching slowly, steadily toward the end zone.

Finally, with 1:57 to go, they put away this first Snow Belt Super Bowl as Wersching kicked his fourth field goal, a 23-yarder.

Anderson drove the Bengals to one more score, a 3-yard pass to Ross in the middle of the end zone as the 49ers' defense laid back during the entire march, looking to avoid the bomb.

It came, though, with just 16 seconds to go. And when Dwight Clark, the hero of San Francisco's National Conference championship victory over Dallas, made another decisive catch — on the onside kick — the victory was secure.

Even before the final gun, Walsh was lifted on his players' shoulders, and young Eddie DeBarbato Jr., the team's owner, kissed his father as they stood on the sidelines. Meanwhile, Montana cradled one final snap at midfield, and the 49ers charged off the field in triumph.

Blazers beat Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Ray Bates scored 16 of his season-high 26 points in the fourth quarter Sunday to lead Portland to a 123-119 victory over the Boston Celtics that snapped the Trail Blazers' National Basketball Association losing streak at three games.

Boston was leading 85-84 when Bates made a three-point play with 9:40 left. Robert Parish, who led Boston with a personal season-high of 36 points, then sank two free throws to tie the score at 87.

Bates then made two free throws to give Portland the lead for good.

With the Trail Blazers leading 99-95 after a jumper by Parish, Bates hit Portland's next three baskets to widen the lead to 105-97 with 3:31 left.

The game was close throughout the first half in which Portland's biggest lead was six points and Boston's was three. The Blazers led most of the way before intermission, but Gerald Henderson's jumper gave Boston a 55-54 lead after two periods.

Portland was led by Kelvin Ransey who scored a season-high 33 points, and Calvin Natt with 20 points. Boston, which lost its second game in a row for the first time this season, got 17 points each from Henderson, Larry Bird and Nate Archibald.
