

Officials toss hats in ring

Kulongoski enters race

PORTLAND, (AP) — State Sen. Ted Kulongoski made an expected announcement Wednesday that he will run for the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary election.

The 41-year-old Junction City lawyer was elected to two state House terms. He was appointed to the Senate in 1977 and was elected to his current Senate term in 1979.

Kulongoski told about 500 people gathered for his announcement at a Portland hotel about his own economic recovery program for the state that would focus on small businesses.

As governor, Kulongoski said he would attempt to recruit outside firms to locate in Oregon, but that he would be most interested in helping businesses that are already located in Oregon.

He criticized the economic development program that Gov. Vic Atiyeh proposed in January.

"He has proposed a program for economic diversification, but it consists primarily of putting more money into the existing bureaucracy for public relations," he said, adding that Atiyeh's program puts too great an emphasis on recruiting outside firms to come to the state.

Several other elected officials also revealed their plans.

State Sen. Ruth McFarland, D-Boring, filed with the state Elections Division in Salem as a candidate for nomination for the new 5th District U.S. House seat.

McFarland, who was elected to the Senate in 1980, is the fourth contender for the Democratic nomination. She is vice chairperson of the education committee.

State Rep. Mae Yih, D-Albany, announced in a letter to the Albany Democrat-Herald newspaper that she will run for nomination to the state Senate seat occupied by John Powell.

Yih is chair of the House Trade and Economic Development Committee.

Powell has said he does not intend to run.

Ted Kulongoski

Junction City politician will make a bid for the governors seat this May.

Deficits described as 'necessary evil'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan, who built his political career on the promise of balanced budgets, said Wednesday that large budget deficits "are a necessary evil in the real world today."

Reagan's comment, in defense of the record $91.5 billion deficit projected in his proposed 1983 budget, came as he continued his fight to stave off efforts to delay or reduce the income tax cut he won from Congress last year.

Since his 1966 gubernatorial campaign in California, Reagan has advocated balanced budgets. His promise of a balanced federal budget by 1983 was a keystone of his successful 1980 presidential campaign.

But while formulating his first budget proposal last year, Reagan said the federal budget would be balanced in 1984, a year later than he originally had predicted. Then, last fall he acknowledged that he would be unable to meet his goal because of the deepening recession, which drained federal revenues while increasing costs.

"No one sympathizes with the idea of a balanced budget more than I do," Reagan said Wednesday in a speech prepared for a town meeting sponsored by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. "You may remember, I've mentioned it a few times over the years."

"The deficits we propose are much larger than I would like," he said. "But they are a necessary evil in the real world today."

Reagan said raising taxes would not significantly reduce the deficit, and he blamed the reduction and postponement of his original 30 percent tax-cut proposal for damaging "our chances of nipping this recession in the bud."

et al.

MEETINGS

A Christian Science open meeting will be held today at 5 p.m. in the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid St. Topic: solutions and answers through individual spiritual growth.

A women's support group will meet today at 4 p.m. in Century Room F, EMU. Sponsored by Women's Referral & Resource Service. For more information, call 686-3327.

The Club Sports bike racing team will meet today at 7 p.m. in Room 745, University Inn, 1000 Patterson St. For more information, call 686-6244.

The Hawaii Club will hold a meeting today at 7 p.m. in Carson Dormitory's Gold Room. Topics to be covered will be the Luau and club bowling tournament. Please be prompt.

The campus group of Bread for the World is meeting this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall at Grace Lutheran Church. Ray Wolfe, a University chemistry professor, will share his knowledge of world hunger. All interested students are welcome.

The University Sailing team is meeting tonight at 8 in the EMU Fishbowl. We will be discussing our regatta, so all members must attend.

SPEAKERS

The latest developments in Poland and a nuclear weapons free zone in Europe will be the topics of a lecture by S. Jacek, a member of Poland's Solidarity trade union, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the EMU Forum. Sponsored by Citizen Action For Lasting Security.

"Marketing and Advertising" is the topic of a presentation today at 5:30 p.m. in Room 337, Gilbert Hall. Speakers from Valley River Inn and the Country Squire have been invited. Sponsored by the Marketing Association.

"The Show's About to Begin," a panel discussion presenting the Eugene Performing Arts Center to the University, will be held Saturday from 1-3 p.m. in the Fountain Court, EMU. Sponsored by the Oregon Student Public Interest Group as part of its Educational Forum Series.

The University Geology Department presents a Lunchbagger Seminar today at 12:30 p.m. in Room 307, Volcanology. University Prof. Alan Boudreau will lecture on "Theories on the Origin of Platinum in Layered Intrusions" and University Prof. Dennis Griet will speak on "Evidence from Pickett Pin Platinum Prospect, Stillwater Complex, Montana."

"Hidden Valleys of the Himalayas in Tibetan Art and Mythology" is the topic of a slide/lecture by Edwin Bernbaum today at 8 p.m. in the Gerlinger Lounge. Bernbaum lived in the Himalayan region as a Peace Corps volunteer and travelled widely throughout the area. His book, "The Way to Shambhala," published by Doubleday Press, deals with the Tibetan myths of hidden sanctuaries resembling the fictional Shangri-La. The lecture will deal with the story of his research for the book, which included four trips to Nepal to examine Tibetan, Indian and Chinese art.

"What is Experimental Linguistics?" is the topic of a lecture by Prof. Bruce Derwing, University of Edmonton — Alberta, today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 204, Chapman Hall.

Subliminal advertising is the topic of a debate featuring Gene Moniz, Campus Crusade, and Bob Tabor, University journalism professor, today at 7:30 p.m. in the University Inn living room.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Students who wish to apply for the Todd-Wenger Memorial Award should submit applications to the Asian Studies office by 5 p.m. March 22. This scholarship will be awarded spring term to an outstanding student (not necessarily one in need of financial assistance) in either Southeast/East Asian studies or public affairs involving the study of relations between the United States and other countries. Only Asian Studies majors, undergraduate or graduate, are eligible. Application forms may be picked up in Room 308, Friendly Hall. In addition, two letters of reference should be forwarded to the Asian Studies office.

FILMS

Peter Jones, British writer and organizer with the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, will present a slide-show on the movement in Europe Monday at 10:30 a.m. in Room 231, Gilbert Hall. Sponsored by Students for a Nuclear Free Future.

"In Memory of the Land and People," a documentary film which offers a visual collage of the strip mining process from the Rockies to Appalachia and the people's lives who are affected by it, will be shown today at 8 p.m. in Room 123, Science I. Sponsored by the Survival Center Free Environmental Film Series.

MISCELLANEOUS

Political Science peer advising can help

Political Science majors or those interested in Political Science plan their Spring term schedules or obtain career-related information. Visit the peer advising office in Room 907, PLC, or call 686-4875.

The Peace Corps will have an information table today in the EMU lobby. Interviews are being held today and Friday at Career Planning & Placement Service.

Eugene Parks and Recreation Department's Spring Leisure Schedule will be mailed to all city residences this week. The schedule includes information on spring classes and activities including canoeing, bicycling, cross-country skiing, swimming, dance, arts and crafts and weight training and other fitness programs. Activities are offered for all ages; programs for physically and mentally limited persons are also included. Registration for spring activities begins March 14, at the city's four community centers and Sheldon Pool. Registration begins Monday, March 15 at Echo Hollow Pool and for outdoor, bicycle, and community garden programs. The specialized recreation program begins registration April

5. Swimming lessons begin March 29; community center classes begin the week of April 5. Non-Eugene residents may pick up a copy of the schedule at all community centers and pools. Copies are also available at the Parks and Recreation Dept., 858 Pearl St., weekdays from 7:45 a.m.-5 p.m.

POLICY

The Emerald's briefs column is open to anyone wishing to announce meetings, lectures, seminars, exhibits, scholarships, or miscellaneous events. Briefs are run once and they are subject to space limitations. They must be typed and triple-spaced in a 65-character margin. Include all pertinent information. Also, list a name and phone number in case we have questions, and the date you want the brief run. Events with donations or admission charges will not be accepted unless the organization is non-profit. All items must be turned in by noon the day before publication at the Emerald Office, Room 300, EMU. If you have a question, please feel free to contact John at 686-5511.

DOONESBURY

by Garry Trudeau

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

OAKWAY CINEMA
Oakway Mall—342-5351

STARTS FRIDAY 6:30 & 9:25 $2.00

MATINEE
SAT./SUN.
1 p.m., 3:45,
6:30, 9:25
Adults $2.00
11 & under
$1.00

PAUL NEWMAN SALLY FIELD
ABSENCE OF MALICE

A COLUMBIA PICTURES PG