Israeli troops battle rioters

TEL AVIV, Israel

Israeli troops used tear gas to break up a Palestinian demonstration in Nablus and an Israeli settler fired his pistol to escape a road ambush in the occupied West Bank Monday, the military command reported.

It was the 11th straight day of clashes in a wave of troubles in the occupied Arab territories in which five Arabs have been killed by Israeli gunfire.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government, which said Sunday it would not tolerate violence in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, meanwhile was bracing for trouble among Israel's Arab citizens on Tuesday, the sixth anniversary of clashes that killed six Israeli Arabs.

The military command said five West Bank villages and refugee camps were under total curfew, including the village of Khadr, where an Israeli settler was ambushed by a hail of stones and burning tires were rolled at his car at an improvised road barricade.

The Israeli, who is the treasurer at the nearby settlement Gush Etzion, drew his pistol and fired to drive off the rioters, the command said.

An anti-Israeli demonstration at Al-Najah University in Nablus turned violent during the afternoon, and troops used tear gas to disperse the crowd, the army said.

Reliable witnesses reported the troops fired bullets at the legs of the crowd in Nablus, but the army said only tear gas was used.

Explosion rips express train

LIMOGES, France

A bomb exploded aboard an express train racing through the hilly countryside near Limoges Monday night, gutting one car and killing at least five passengers. Officials speculated that it was either a terrorist attack or an accidental explosion of a terrorist bomb.

Twelve people were injured, two of them seriously.

French television said police believed explosives being transported by terrorists may have blown up accidentally. The broadcast said authorities were questioning a young woman passenger.

An official at the Limoges prefecture (regional authority) described the explosion as "a terrorist attack." There was no immediate claim of responsibility.

The blast hit the second car of the 15-car train about 15 miles northeast of the city of Limoges on a regular Paris-Toulouse run.

A journalist, Simone Jorand, said the train was traveling at 85-100 mph and the engineer was unable to stop it for more than a mile after the explosion.

She said the train did not derail, but stopped in a deep cutting, and the 200 rescuers had to walk more than half a mile along the tracks to reach the wreckage.

Land use advocates sue five counties

SALEM

Land use planning advocates Monday asked a court to order the Oregon Land Conservation and Development Commission to crack down on five counties for allegedly ignoring state law.

A group known as 1,000 Friends of Oregon asked for an order directing the agency to require the counties to complete their comprehensive land use plans and adopt regulations which are in compliance with state planning goals.

The action, filed in Marion County Circuit Court, claims that Baker, Columbia, Coos, Malheur and Umatilla counties either lack comprehensive land use plans as required by law or have adopted plans which are not in compliance with state planning goals.

If immediate adoption of land use regulations is not granted, the suit asks that the LCDC be directed to set a deadline which the counties would have to meet.

The lawsuit contends that the counties have not taken care to preserve agricultural land, one of the goals adopted by the state which should be reflected in local plans.

According to the suit, the counties have all received planning money and additional time in order to draft the necessary plans and regulations.
