THE CULTURAL FORUM PRESENTS THE AMERICAN FRIEND

Widely considered the major revelation of the 1977 Cannes and New York Film Festivals, The American Friend has established director Wim Wenders with Fassbinder and Herzog in the very first rank of the remarkably resurgent German cinema. Starring Bruno Ganz and Dennis Hopper, Wenders raises the themes of rootlessness and tenuousness to a global level, detailing a homogenized post-war world in which cities, language and cultures blur into each other. Ganz is a frame-maker who is employed as an assassin by a French gangster through the manipulation of a mysterious American.
