Be an IFCer

Ever been curious about how you'd look with prematurely grey hair? Have you always longed to be totally unappreciated, enjoy the throb of a migraine and yearn for a nervous twitch? If so, the IFC is where you oughta be.

Each year, motivated by only God knows what visions of sugarplums dancing in their heads, any number of poor, misguided schnooks set their sights on becoming members of the infamous Incidental Fee Committee. It's a noble cause, generally undertaken with an honest desire to serve, tempered with the knowledge that half of your friends who are in ASUO programs and organizations will never speak to you again and the other half will be spending their spare time sticking pins in your voodoo likeness.

This past year, serving on the IFC has been an experience that rates right up there on the joy meter with hangnails and post-nasal drip. Since last May we've been accused of being power-hungry, irresponsible, insensitive and elitist. And that was the nice stuff. What does the IFC do to provoke such an outpouring of love and adoration? We allocate. We take X amount of bucks and try to make it do a mozzarella cheese impersonation, stretching it every which way among 90-some ASUO programs. It's all done with mirrors. Talk about your miracle of the loaves and fishes...

So why do it? Why would anyone purposely subject him- or herself to this kind of abuse? There are a million stories in the naked city.

Each IFC is a unique blend of personalities and ours has been no exception. Under the benevolent guidance of the ASUO's Alan Contreras and with Chairman Karsten Rasmussen heading up our little band of marauders, the IFC: Steve Baldwin, David Gibson, Xavier Romano, Katcha Phinney, Robert Payne and myself, has diddleybopped through yet another year of fiscal escapades. Student government here is a real pip. We need movers and shakers and we need them now. Call the ASUO office (x3724) and see where you might fit in. And remember, it's not just a job, it's just not an adventure. Confused? Wait'll you get a load of figuring out payroll assessment.

All week I have been receiving condolences on the closing of the Environmental Studies Center. This is to inform all interested parties that we did not "get the boot" as Ms. Howlett so inaccurately put it. We are a well organized, functioning library and will continue to provide information to students and community members on issues of environmental concern.

Small resource centers on campus have enough trouble advertising their presence without being sabotaged by the Emerald staff.

The quality of the commentary could have been improved substantially had the reporter stated the purpose of the call, as it was she didn't even bother to verify the spelling of my name. Sensationalism surely undermines the purpose of good journalism, which is to inform.

Wacko.

If you're a senior and have the promise of a $10,000 career-oriented job, American Express would like to offer you the American Express* Card.

What are we?

Crazy?

No, confident. Confident of your future. But even more than that. We're confident of you now. And we're proving it.

A $10,000 job promise. That's it. No strings. No gimmicks. And this offer is even good for 12 months after you graduate.

But why should you get the American Express Card now?

Well, if you're planning a trip across country or around the world, the American Express Card is a real help. Get plane tickets with it. Then use it for hotels and restaurants all over the world. And, if you should need any help while you're away, just go to any American Express Travel Service Office* wherever you are—and they'll help out.

Of course, the Card also helps you establish your credit history. And it's great for restaurants and shopping right at home.

So call 800-528-8000 for a Special Student Application or look for one at your college bookstore or on campus bulletin boards.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.

Look for an application on campus.
