YWCA PRESENTS Jane Fonda in A DOLL'S HOUSE
Henrik Ibsen's play has been a starring vehicle for world famous actresses. Nazimova, Laurette Taylor, Ruth Gordon, Helen Hayes, Peggy Ashcroft, have all interpreted the part of "Nora Helmer." Nora's search for individuality and its correspondence with modern feminism was an obvious attraction to Jane Fonda. This production was filmed entirely on location, utilizing interiors of houses in the town of Roros, Norway, a starkly beautiful one-time copper mining center which has remained relatively unchanged since the mid-19th century period of Ibsen's play.

The Ananda Marga Society presents
RICHARD PRYOR and GENE WILDER in STIR CRAZY
Pryor and Wilder have great comic "chemistry" in this very funny film about two show biz hopefuls who find themselves framed for a bank heist and railroaded into the state pen. Our heroes "tough guy" entrance into a swarming jail cell is one of the funniest scenes in recent memory. "Gene Wilder and Richard Pryor are the best comic team to hit the screen since Laurel and Hardy."

C.J. Balfe thinks students don't need to be taking stands "on every little war."
Well Now . . .
We were just wondering . . .
Who is it that will fight that war in El Salvador? And where did Reagan get all that money for bombs? Maybe somebody gave it to him . . . OR, MAYBE HE TOOK IT.
