

Coalition slates march

A march and rally to oppose U.S. involvement in Central America, sponsored by the April 24 Coalition is scheduled for Saturday in downtown Eugene.

The coalition — comprised of labor, environmental, leftist, women's, lawyer's, and foreign students' groups — meets at 10:30 a.m. at 13th Avenue and Kincaid Street to prepare for the march. The rally is scheduled from noon to about 3 p.m. at the Federal Building, Seventh Avenue and Pearl Street, says Julie Sinai, coalition organizer.

The San Francisco Mime Troupe will perform as marchers arrive at the Federal Building, she says. Short speeches by Austin Ray, pastor of Ebbert Memorial United Methodist Church in Springfield; Alfredo Monge, representative of El Salvador's FDR (Democratic Revolutionary Front); and Chinosole from the Friends of Myra Willard Committee will follow. Brenda Cochran, president of the University's Graduate Teaching Fellows Federation, will not speak as previously announced, Sinai says.

Co-sponsors of the event include Students for a Progressive Agenda, the National Lawyer's Guild, the Cuba Study Group, and the Mayday Cultural Committee. Endorsers include the ASUO, University Democrats, Women in Transition, Black Student Union, Asian American Alliance, and Students for a Nuclear Free Future.

Global study event scheduled

Building global awareness through folklore and the arts is the theme of a Northwest Conference scheduled for June 14-18 at the University.

The five-day event, sponsored by the University International Studies Program, will bring together Northwest college instructors and Oregon high school teachers who are interested in developing and improving global studies programs in their schools.

In Oregon, the State Board of Education has adopted a one-year global studies graduation requirement beginning with the graduating class of 1984.

The conference is part of a new University program on global studies that has been made possible in part by a grant from the Exxon Education Foundation.

"Every aspect of our lives is now affected by world political, economic and social events," says Edward Comstock, international studies research assistant and conference coordinator.

"The challenge is for us to prepare ourselves and our students to be world citizens, skilled at responding creatively to an increasingly interdependent world," he says.

The conference program includes a variety of guest-speaker presentations, discussion groups, workshops, films and exhibits. The sessions will address the problems, instructional methods, and use of classroom and community resources in teaching global perspectives.

Participants will be offered a choice of workshops, including sessions on human rights and refugees, preserving past cultures, Americans and foreign language, teaching global perspectives with simulations and games, and intercultural communication and understanding.

The conference registration deadline is May 8. A $35 fee includes admission to all conference sessions, teaching materials and an international luncheon. Room and board in the dormitories is available at extra cost.

Participants may receive up to three graduate credits through the education college, at a cost of $24 per credit hour.

For a registration form and further information, contact Edward Comstock, International Studies Program, Straub Hall, 686-5053.

LA CAGE
AUX FOLLES

The greatest drag comedy since SOME LIKE IT HOT, this movie has become one of the most phenomenal successes in film history. LA CAGE AUX FOLLES is the name of a transvestite nightclub run by a pair of aging homosexuals, one of whom has a son. The son, who was raised by the unorthodox couple, is eager to get married. But his fiancée's father is the chief of the Department of Morals and is not likely to approve of his new in-laws. Eager to help the young lovers, the boy's "parents" make a valiant attempt to curb their outrageous life style by trying to appear "normal" and "respectable." The results are unforgettablely comic. There are scenes of such hilarity that Chaplin and the Marx Brothers come to mind. But beneath the comedy is a touching and sensitive story that proves that love knows no boundaries.

A FREE WAY TO SAY THANKS

Do you have a professor who makes you leap out of bed to get to class, and never want to be late? Who inspires you to dedicate yourself to your studies? Who makes you think and want to learn? Who is simply a great teacher? Count your blessings — and nominate this person for the Annual Ersted Distinguished Teaching Award. It's one way you can say "thanks." It only takes a moment, but it makes a great difference to the professor. It says, "keep up the good work!" Pick up nomination forms at the ASUO office right away; deadline is Friday, April 23. 682-4-22
