

END U.S. INTERVENTION IN EL SALVADOR

The so-called democratic elections in El Salvador were a desperate attempt to legitimize a ruthless regime. In a country where military policy is reported by Congressman Gerry Studds as, "a combination of murder, torture, rape, the burning of crops in order to create starvation conditions, and a program of general terrorism and harassment," the struggle of the Salvadoran people has not ended.

A few facts that illustrate the basis of the conflict:

- 50% of the children die before age five
- 72% of Salvadoran infants suffer from malnutrition
- over half the people subsist on a per capita of less than $10 per month

- unemployment is 40%
- two hundredths of one percent of the population own 39% of the land

The media's recent neglect of the Salvadoran issue does not signify an end to the Reagan Policy of "more bullets, more war," as stated by Congressman Thomas Enders. As concerned U. of O. students, faculty and staff, we urge the U.S. government to end intervention and pursue the peaceful negotiations proposed by the French and Mexican governments.

ACT NOW

- We urge you to petition your senators and representatives to support such Bills as the Hatfield-Weicker Bill in the Senate (S. 2243), the Leach-DeNardis Bill in the House (H.R. 5896), which would make any further military aid depend on the Salvadoran government's willingness to enter, without conditions, into negotiations with opposition parties.

- Educate members of your community about the crisis in El Salvador.
