should try the theatre department as it might broaden my range and give me more of an opportunity to perform.

"I like the theatre department here," she continues. "It's small enough that you can get individual attention. You can learn here. There is a great variety of input."

Leslie says she likes doing musicals, so much so that the day after "The Boy Friend" closes she's going to Big Fork, Montana, where she will perform in four musicals at a summer stock theatre there.

"This summer will help me to know if theatre is what I really want to do," she says. "I'll be doing theatre all the time without having to worry about a science class."

"People want to see this kind of thing," she asserts. "The bottom line is that people want to be entertained. I know it sounds corny, but people these days like to come and not have to worry about anything for two and a half hours.

"I remember during a curtain call for "Anything Goes" (a Cole Porter musical) last year," Leslie says. "I looked out and saw an old man, maybe in his 80s, in the fourth row. This man didn't have any teeth but he had this big, broad smile on his face, and he was clapping and tears were rolling down his face. I don't care what anybody says about musicals, it's worth it!"

Cheers!

Has all the fun of a trip to Mexico without the expense. Perfect after working hard all day on your tan. Simply blend ingredients with a scoop of shaved ice. Strain over ice cubes in a tall glass. Straw mandatory. Adios.

The Daiquiri

½ oz. lime juice
1½ ozs. white rum
1 teaspoon sugar

"The Daiquiri, with its blend of tart and sweet, is as welcome as a first kiss," says Esquire. "It makes you pucker and then smile." Just shake it up with the omnipresent cracked ice and strain into a glass. Pucker up.

SUPPORT THE NUCLEAR FREEZE

To improve national and international security, the United States and the Soviet Union should stop the nuclear arms race. Specifically they should adopt a mutual freeze on the testing, production, and deployment of nuclear weapons and of missiles and new aircraft designed primarily to deliver nuclear weapons. This is an essential, verifiable first step towards lessening the risk of nuclear war and reducing the nuclear arsenals.

We, the undersigned, support the above Nuclear Weapons Freeze Proposal and call for all concerned citizens to demonstrate their support of the Nuclear Freeze at the Freeze Rally on May 15, 1982, in Alton Baker Park, Eugene, Oregon.
