Outstanding students and living groups have been recognized at various luncheons and banquets over the past week, with several new scholarships awarded to undergraduate students.

Ann Magulgan, a junior majoring in telecommunication, is the recipient of the Bess Templeton Cristman Award.

Co-winners of the Maurice Harold Hunter Leadership Scholarship are John Dulcich, a junior accounting major, and R. Patrick Hanlin, a junior finance and rhetoric major. This award honors the junior man whose achievements and good example have helped develop leadership qualities in other students.

Deborah Hauger, a senior international studies and Spanish major, is this year's winner of the AAUW Senior Woman Recognition Award. Given by the American Association of University Women, the award recognizes a graduating senior woman for her scholarship, character, personality, contributions to campus and community life, and potential for future achievement.

Recipient of the Koyl Cup is Jeffrey Nudelman, a junior political science major. The award is given to the junior man who demonstrates well-rounded development of his leadership, citizenship and academic skills.

Elizabeth Mann, a junior journalism major, is the recipient of the Gerlinger Cup, which honors a junior woman for her scholarship, leadership and service to the University.

Winning the Doyle Higdon Memorial Trophy is Eugene "Choo Choo" Young, top punt returner for the University football team and a junior elementary education major. The award recognizes a University student-athlete for excellence in athletics, scholarship and citizenship.

Winner of the Emerald Athletic Award is Bev Smith, a two-time Kodak all-American and a senior physical education major. The award honors achievements in athletics, service and scholarship.

Earning the Burt Brown Barker Vice Presidential cups for living groups with the highest undergraduate grade point indices were Alpha Delta Pi and Philadelphia House, a men's cooperative.

The women of Alpha Delta Pi compiled a 2.907 GPI — which differs from the traditional grade point average in that "N" grades are taken into account. The men of Philadelphia House rated a 2.914 GPI.

The University Mother's recently gave eight students scholarships for the 1982-83 academic year.

Douglas Breneman, a psychology major, received the $1,000 Golda Parker Wickham Award.

Diane Bleek, an anthropology major, and Leslie Manning, a geology major, received natural history museum scholarships of $1,000 for next year.

Finance major George Hosfield, physical education major Karen Shepard, pre-business student Marcia Wilkinson, and computer science major JoZell Johnson all received $500 awards from the Mother's Club based on financial need, high scholarship and community service.

The first recipient of the George W. Cherry Speech Scholarship is Richard Poulin, a rhetoric and communication major. Poulin earned the scholarship by placing first in a recent campus-wide speech contest.

The University Parents Association awarded its first merit scholarship to Tracy Lawrence, a junior majoring in international studies, based on her scholarship, leadership ability, motivation and contributions to the University and the community.

Thirteen students and five faculty members have been added to The Society of Friars, one of the most prestigious honoraries at the University.

Among those inducted into the Friars are University Pres. Psul Olum and recently elected ASUO Pres. C.J. Balle.

Students selected for Friars membership are leaders who give promise of future leadership as citizens and have a deep loyalty to the University, according to Bob Bowlin, dean of students.

Besides Olum, faculty members selected for honorary membership include Anthropology Prof. Vernon Dorjahn; Architecture Prof. George Hodge; English Prof. Barbara Mossberg; and Keith Richard, University archivist.

The 13 students chosen as Friars include accounting major John Dulcich; psychology major C.J. Balfe; political science major Alan Contreras; general science major Michael Walter; pre-journalism major Vincson Green; telecommunications major Ann Magulgan; political science major Jeffrey Nudelman; economics major Daniel Cohen; pre-business major David Gibson; and psychology major Lisa Sandau.

Also selected as Friars were pre-journalism major Elizabeth Mann; pre-major DeShauna Blankinship; and rhetoric and communication major Jana McLellan.
