ONCE UPON A TIME IN THE WEST

This monumental epic ranks among the five or six all-time Western masterpieces. Henry Fonda plays the ruthless, murderous psychopath who suffers no pangs of conscience after annihilating Jason Robards, the half-breed falsely accused of a terrible slaughter. Charles Bronson plays The Man, who remembers how his brothers was savagely tortured. Brilliantly directed by Sergio Leone, this glorious picture re-established the Western's significance to the filmmaker's art.

The Ananda Marga Society presents

BOGART and HEPBURN in THE AFRICAN QUEEN

Unquestionably one of the most entertaining films ever made, THE AFRICAN QUEEN has adventure, romance, laughs, and superb acting by Humphrey Bogart and Katherine Hepburn. Bogie won his only Oscar for his roles as the hard-drinking river-rat in Africa. Hepburn is equally great as a "prim and proper" woman stuck alone with booze on a dangerous journey. A truly great film!

SUFI CIRCLE PRESENTS
STEELYARD BLUES

Jane Fonda, Peter Boyle and Donald Sutherland sail through this wild comedy about a group of outrageous misfits who take on society, the establishment, rules, pettiness, stupidity and superficiality. It's an even match, but they beat the establishment and escape in a renovated airplane to a Utopian country with no jails. It's kooky yet striking satire with an irrefutable cast.
