

Bach festival returns

The 1983 Bach Festival begins in Eugene June 28, bringing together local musicians with artists from around the country and abroad to perform the works of Johann Sebastian Bach and other classical composers.

This year's Festival consists of three musical series and a number of special events including a trip to a vineyard, a lecture on recorded versus live music, an outdoor Bach supper, a critic's symposium and a Bach poster art gallery.

A series of free noon concerts begins June 28, with Eugene's Silverwood Chamber Players performing pieces by Francis Poulenc, Gyorgy Ligeti, and Anton Reicha.

On June 29, Du Vent et Bois (Of Wind and Wood), comprised of West Coast artists, will present pieces by Francois Couperin, Thomas Vincent, and Georg Phillip Telemann.

David Case, University guitar instructor, and Douglas Hensley, former University student, present a variety of classical guitar pieces June 30.

On July 1, Ilkka Talvi and Judith Aller-Talvi, the principal and assistant principal violinists of the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra, perform as soloists in Bach's Double Violin Concerto.

Alan Civil, England's internationally acclaimed horn player, performs as a soloist with his University master class July 1.

Noted alto soloist Alyce Rogers and baritone Douglas Lawrence perform a duo recital July 5.

University music school professors Charles Dowd and Edward Kammerer present "The Art of Jazz Improvisation: Impressions of Bach and Now" with their jazz quartet July 6.

On July 7, former Eugene bassist Jeff Bradetich will perform two pieces with a string and brass ensemble.

The Festival Brass Ensemble will perform July 8.

The San Francisco Boy's Chorus, also performing in the two St. Matthew Passion concerts, will present selections from their current repertoire of religious and popular music July 9.

The afternoon Bach Cantata series features BWV 111, 26, 115, 140, 129, 7, 78, and 137. Performances will take place at 5:15 p.m., June 28 through July 1 and July 5-8.

The cantata orchestra is composed of players from the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, San Francisco, Denver and Portland Symphonies, professional solo artists-in-residence and a select choir of 45-50 singers.

The evening Festival series is offered July 2-3 and features Mendelssohn's St. Paul Oratorio, conducted by Helmuth Rilling, festival conductor and artistic director.

Bach's Brandenburg Concertos No. 2 and 5 and Concerto in D Minor for Two Violins will be presented in an orchestral concert July 4-5 along with Mozart's Horn Concerto.

Soprano Arleen Auger will give a Lieder recital July 6.

An all-Bach chamber concert performs BWV 1038, 1030, 1037, 1020, and 1039 in repeat performances July 7-8.

Performances of Bach's St. Matthew Passion on July 10-11 will cap the festival.
