Israeli soldiers leave Beirut, Marine arrival expected soon

From the Associated Press

Israeli troops and armor evacuated from Beirut's harbor Tuesday and prepared to leave the airport after resolving a dispute with the United States which cleared the way for 1,200 Marine peacekeepers to land.

Meanwhile, the Israeli government approved a full-scale judicial inquiry into the massacre of Palestinians in west Beirut and the PLO chief of staff, Brig. Saad Sayel, was reported ambushed and killed in eastern Lebanon.

"We are expecting the Americans in the next 48 hours. We told them they could land at the airport, if the Lebanese government agreed it was OK with us," said Lt. Col. Yaacov Perez, deputy spokesman at the Israeli military headquarters in Baabda, five miles east of Beirut.

Diplomatic sources in Beirut said the Marines' landing was delayed because the Israelis had insisted on keeping an air traffic controller at the airport even when the Marines arrived.

But U.S. diplomatic sources in Tel Aviv said the dispute was resolved and that the American contingent of the multinational force would probably be able to deploy in Beirut Wednesday as scheduled.

Israeli authorities were not available to confirm the resolution of the dispute, though the Tel Aviv command said Israeli troops would leave west Beirut on Wednesday as promised.

Israel radio reported that U.S. Ambassador Morris Draper met with Maj. Gen. Amir Drori, head of Israel's northern command, for talks on the airport dispute. Details were not immediately available.

The United States insisted that Israeli troops leave west Beirut before the Marines landed in the Lebanese capital, and the Marines' scheduled arrival there last Sunday was put off until Israel announced its readiness to leave.

About 100 Israeli soldiers, along with personnel carriers, jeeps and trucks rolled out of the Beirut harbor area Tuesday.

The departure of the Israelis left French, Italian and Lebanese forces in sole control of the port for the first time since Israeli forces invaded west Beirut on Sept. 15, one day after the assassination of then President Bashir Gemayel.

French paratroopers and Italian infantrymen took up positions in and around the Sabra and Chatilla refugee camps to help the newly reconstructed Lebanese army with security and to prevent the recurrence of the Sept. 16-18 massacre of hundreds of men, women and children in the camps.

In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government decided to set up a full-scale judicial inquiry into Israel's conduct during the massacre at Sabra and Chatilla.

Cabinet Secretary Dan Meridor said the government was giving the investigating committee a free hand to probe any question related to the killings in the camps and to call any witness, including ministers and generals, to testify under oath.

Radio reports quoting the Palestinian news agency Wafa said Sayel was assassinated in an ambush early Tuesday while driving from Rayak to Baalbeck in eastern Lebanon.

Egypt applauds Reagan stand

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Egypt urged the Reagan administration Tuesday to take a firmer stand in the Middle East and to "promptly restrain Israel as President Eisenhower did" during the 1956-57 Suez crisis.

Butros Ghali, Egypt's minister of state for foreign affairs, in an address to the U.N. General Assembly also called on Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization to reassess their mutually antagonistic policies.

Despite "tragic events" in Lebanon and elsewhere in the Middle East, Ghali said hope for a fair settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict "has not yet been extinguished."

Ghali hailed as "foremost" among recent positive developments Pres. Ronald Reagan's plan for a "broader peace" in the Middle East, announced Sept. 1, which provides for Palestinian self-government under Jordanian authority. It was, Ghali said, a "major step forward towards a just solution of the Palestinian question and a just and comprehensive settlement."
