

Seized property gets costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is holding $82 million in seized cars, trucks, boats and aircraft and is losing money because it can't dispose of the property quickly enough, the chairman of a House committee said Wednesday.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas, said the government has failed to remedy the problem despite a warning last February from the General Accounting Office of Congress and a Customs Service report.

"Although a previous GAO report and a Customs internal audit report had identified these problems, nothing has been done to alleviate them," said Brooks.

The GAO said that because of vandalism, theft, storage costs and depreciation, the government is losing money through its inability to sell off the property.

The situation got so bad that for a time, in the middle of 1981, the Immigration and Naturalization Service stopped making seizures altogether because it had no place to store the vehicles, the watchdog agency said.

The GAO said the General Services Administration was unable to move quickly enough to make room in its overstuffed storage areas. GSA blamed the problem on inadequate manpower to handle what was an unexpected increase in seizures.

Brooks sent the latest GAO findings to Attorney General William French Smith and Treasury Secretary Donald Regan.

The Justice and Treasury Departments had no immediate comment.

The GAO said federal law enforcement agencies have seized 3,665 cars and trucks, 692 boats and 161 aircraft.

Most of the property was seized by the U.S. Customs Service, the GAO said. But the Drug Enforcement Agency and the Immigration and Naturalization Service have also stepped up seizures of property to control contraband shipments, the GAO said.

Hinckley writes CBS, says he won't try again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential assailant John Hinckley Jr. says he will be ready to leave the mental hospital where he is confined "just as soon as I have a little more love in my heart and a little less Jodie Foster on the brain."

Hinckley was committed indefinitely to St. Elizabeths Hospital here last June after a jury found him innocent by reason of insanity in the shooting of President Reagan and three other men on March 30, 1981.

Hinckley, in a letter to CBS News, says that if he is ever released, he would not try another assassination attempt.

But he did teach the Secret Service a lesson, he said in the four-page letter. "Because of me, the Secret Service is much better these days. I showed them how utterly simple it is to attack the president. I couldn't believe how easy it was to get so close. I kept waiting for something or someone to interfere with me but no one gave me a second glance. And I thought to myself my whole life has been leading to this moment. I can't back out and cheat destiny."
