Record number get unemployment, experts predict a tight job market

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record number of Americans drew unemployment checks in mid-October, government figures showed Thursday, leading private economists to predict further deterioration in an already tight job market. Statistics released by the Labor Department showed that more than 4.68 million people were getting unemployment checks in the week ending Oct.

16. The seasonally adjusted total was the highest since the unemployment compensation program was enacted as a safety net for the jobless in the mid-1930s. Officials with the department's Employment and Training Administration stressed that while the 4,687,000 figure was the highest ever, the situation is not as bad as it has been. They noted that the insured employment rate was 5.4 percent which is below the 7 percent peak reached during the recession of 1975. Only insured workers draw benefits. The Democratic Study Group, which does research for congressional Democrats, disputed the government's optimism. It complained that too many Americans are failing to qualify for unemployment insurance benefits.

It blamed the Reagan administration's budget-cutting initiatives for tightening eligibility for such benefits in a time of rising joblessness. More than half of the nation's 11.3 million unemployed do not draw such benefits. But a large proportion of those listed as unemployed were people who futilely entered the labor market in search of work — and thus did not qualify for jobless benefits.

NY cops seize 20 lbs of heroin

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major organized crime drug network in New York City was immobilized with the arrest of 13 suspects and the seizure of 20 pounds of heroin valued at more than $20 million, the government said on Thursday. FBI Director William Webster said the undercover operation conducted by the Drug Enforcement Administration broke a heroin pipeline that was importing about 25 kilograms of the drug each week into the United States.

That would be enough to sustain the habit of 19,000 hard-core addicts for nearly a month, the DEA said. Kevin Gallagher, who heads the DEA's heroin desk, said the drug bust "is going to be felt in the streets of New York."
