A film by Rainer Werner Fassbinder
The first of three films to be released after Fassbinder's untimely death, LOLA is a darty humorous look at post-war reconstruction in a small German town. Barbara Sukowa plays the prostitute/singer who makes strange bedfellows of the town's major contractor and the idealistic new building inspector. "A dazzler" - Judith Crist. "Unexpectedly rich" - Vincent Canby. "Must be seen" - Andrew Sarris.

EIJANAIIKA
Eijanaika offers the solid narrative pleasures of a hefty "good read" novel. An interwoven throng of engrossing characters, an unobtrusive historical framework, beautiful to watch with plenty of Samurai action. The title translates as "why not?" and the phrase becomes the rallying cry of peasant uprising in 19th century Tokyo.

SUFI CIRCLE PRESENTS RAMPARTS OF CLAY

Praised for its astounding visual beauty, its sensitivity in revealing one of Africa's most intriguing cultures and its insightful portrayal of the impact of political and social force on the lives of ordinary people. Against the setting of a magnificently isolated village on the edge of the Sahara, Jean-Louis Bertucelli presents the drama of a young woman unable to accept the subservient role that her people's ancient traditions demand of her. Her growing conflict with her community parallels the villager's difficult awakening to their own experience. Arabic with subtitles.
