

Take A Bagel Along

Better yet, take a dozen. Bagels are great for skiing and all outdoor winter activities. They're durable, lightweight, water repellent, and nutritionally sound.

And, by gosh, they taste great!

Lox, cream cheeses, deli meats, juices and Haagen-Dazs ice cream ready to go for your impromptu outings.

Jaworski dies of heart attack

WIMBERLY, Texas (AP) — Leon Jaworski, the Texas lawyer who as Watergate special prosecutor helped force the resignation of former Pres. Richard Nixon, died Thursday at his ranch.

Jaworski, 77, had a heart attack while cutting wood at his Circle J Ranch, according to Ellen Henderson, dispatcher at Hays County Sheriff's Department in San Marcos.

Jaworski's body was taken to the Pennington Funeral Home in San Marcos after he was pronounced dead by the Justice of the Peace Sonny Gold, she said. The body later was transferred to Geo. Lewis and Sons funeral home in Houston, Henderson said.

Jaworski had not returned to the courtroom since 1974, when he successfully argued before the U.S. Supreme Court that the White House had to release tape recordings, which linked Nixon to the Watergate scandal.

"You just don't argue another case after you've argued 'the United States versus Nixon' before the Supreme Court," he said.

Jaworski considered his successful battle for the Nixon tapes the apex of his legal career.

When Archibald Cox was fired as special Watergate prosecutor in October 1973, Gen. Alexander Haig Jr., the White House chief of staff, asked Jaworski to take the job. Jaworski accepted after receiving assurances he would have the independence he wanted.

Initially, he said, he didn't believe Nixon was involved in the Watergate cover-up. That changed after he heard the tape of Nixon and then-White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman discussing how to avoid telling the truth and still avoid a perjury charge.

"That's when I realized he was right in the middle," he said. "I knew just how traumatic that would be for the country and I shuddered. For a moment, I wished I'd never been asked to take the job."

Doctors had discovered in February that Jaworski had cancer of the pancreas, for which he was given a series of radiation treatments.

Jaworski, born in Waco, Texas, in 1905, became the youngest lawyer ever licensed in the state at the age of 20. In 1929, he became a full partner in a Houston law firm.

New report of drug poisoning

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A woman hospitalized for what appeared to be a stroke may have been poisoned by a capsule of Anacin-3 that had been laced with cyanide, state officials said Thursday.

Sue Bowen, 30, stopped breathing Nov. 26 and foamed at the mouth after taking a capsule from an Anacin-3 bottle her husband had purchased a day or two before.

Doctors diagnosed a stroke, according to a police report, but Richard Bowen, 29, took the capsules to his doctor, who passed them on to the state Department of Health for analysis.

On Wednesday, the state reported that at least one of the capsules remaining in the bottle, and possibly two others, had been laced with cyanide.

The San Jose News said the woman had been poisoned by cyanide, but authorities said they were not certain of this.

"We have indications that her symptoms resembled those of a cyanide attack," said Joseph McNamara, San Jose police chief.

The Chicago poisonings triggered a rash of reported product-tamperings. In Oroville, a young butcher allegedly fell ill after taking a Tylenol capsule laced with strychnine.
