

The par-3's are especially tough. An example is the 175-yard 11th. With a pond in front and to the side of the green, and a sand trap behind, it is not for the faint-of-heart or for the fading slice. Escaping with a double-bogey can be a pleasure at times.

The best part of Tokatee may be its discount to University students. A validated fee card gets a round for half price, and at $7.50 a shot, it more than makes up for the gas money to get there.

It also makes for a nice way to spend a day — a little golf in the morning and an afternoon up by Three Sisters or relaxing at the hot springs near Cougar Reservoir, which is just up the road?

What better way to escape the drudgery of school and Eugene?

Emerald Valley Golf Course in Creswell. Another long course that has a lot to offer, the 6,231 par-72 Emerald Valley is in fairly good condition. The fairways are dry, but the greens are still soggy.

The course annually holds some tough tournaments such as the Oregon Golf Association Medal Championship, and in 1981 it hosted the United States Women's Public Link Championship.

Probably the outstanding hole I found on my little excursion, as my scorecard will attest, is the 421-yard par-4 fifth hole.

The length itself often causes a duffer to make that ill-fated decision to "go for it" off the tee. If you survive that, you're faced with a long, long second shot that must dissect ponds both to the right and to the left of a green bunkered by sand traps.

A definite nightmare for an unwary golfer. Bring plenty of golf balls.

Green fees run $8 for nine holes and $13 for 18.

Springfield Country Club on Mohawk Road in North Springfield. Definitely the up-and-coming course in the area. The already nice 2,842-yard par-35 nine-hole will be supplemented by a new back nine scheduled to open in mid-June.

The new nine, a rolling 3,400 yards long, is penned in against a nearby mountain and is "much more difficult" than the existing nine according to club pro Ron Wells.

The course is in good shape, and seems to drain the best of the links I toured. Heavy rains and an even heavier hail storm moments before I hit the first tee didn't affect the course much, though it did make me question what I was doing out there.

The semi-private club doesn't fit into any country club stereotype. The course is closed weekends until noon and on Thursday after 4:00 p.m., but otherwise is open to non-members at very comparable prices. Nine holes run $5 on weekdays and $6 on weekends.

Oakway Golf Course 2000 Cal Young Road. A nice little course for working on your short game. Only a 3,529-yards long par 61, you really need a driver, wedge and nine-iron for this course, and a good player can get away with a three-wood instead of the driver.

But the course can be deceptive if a hacker isn't wary. A few fairways are narrow and can leave a duffer in trouble if he gets in the rough and is forced to hit from beneath one of the many little trees which line the course. Fortunately winter rules are still in effect and a little foot wedge every once in a while can do wonders for your score.

The course is in descent condition with only a few muddy fairways, and the greens are reasonably dry.

The price is a little high considering the length — $5 for nine holes and $9 for 18.

Laurelwood Golf Course, 2700 Columbia. The availability (less than a mile from campus) and the price make this a popular choice among University students.

The course is not difficult, a par-35 only 2,800 yards long, and can boost a golfer's confidence before he or she ventures out to play the more formidable courses in the area.

Heavy early season play and even heavier rains makes this less than an ideal course to play. The high clay content of the soil makes it "mucky" at times according to club pro Gary Dutell.

Watch your shots because it's easy to lose the ball in the middle of the fairways.

Fortunately, this can also be a blessing. Especially on the made-for-a-duffer 90-degree dogleg right fifth hole. A long tee shot that fades, makes for a perfect approach shot to a green.

But when you're almost hit by an impatient golfer, who lets one rip around the blind corner before you're out of the way, you can gain satisfaction as the ball disappears in the mud. Of course after you tell the jerk to yell that great guilt remover "fore" next time before he hits, you conveniently forget exactly where the ball disappeared. Aww, sweet revenge.

And it was a Titlelist, too.

Bring Out Your Best with RIM

SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES - SPRING 1983

| Activity               | Division* | Min. # Players | Entry Deadline  | Starting Date or Event Date |
|------------------------|-----------|----------------|-----------------|-----------------------------|
| Swimming*              | M,W,C     | 4              | Thurs. April 14 | April 16                    |
| Volleyball Mixed Dbls. | C         | 2              | Fri. April 15   | April 18                    |
| 4 x 4 Basketball       | M,W       | 4              | Fri. April 22   | April 23                    |
| Volleyball Doubles     | M,W       | 2              | Fri. April 22   | April 25                    |
| FUN RUN                | M,W       | 1              | Wed. April 27   | April 27                    |
| Golf-Scramble League   | M,W,C     | 2              | Thurs. April 28 | May 3                       |
| Ultimate Frisbee       | M,W,C     | 7              | Fri. April 29   | May 2                       |
| Track*                 | M,W,C     | 4              | Wed. May 4      | May 6                       |

* Intramural Sport - Under IM Regulations
*M-Men, W-Women, C-Coed

Spring Fling Fun Run - Today (Wed. April 13). Meet on the North side of Autzen Footbridge at 4:00 p.m. SHARP! You will have the choice of a 3 or 5 mile loop. Join us and begin to get the kinks out from winter of being holed up.

Volleyball Mixed Doubles - Hey! All you volleyball fans, get with it and enter the mixed doubles tournament - entry deadline is Friday, April 15, at 5:00 p.m. Games will be played at Gerlinger Annex on Monday and Wednesday, April 18, and 20, beginning at 4:30 p.m. Entries available at 103 Gerlinger.

Post NCAA 4 on 4 Tournament - Basketball players never die, they SHOOT INTO SPRING. Entries due April 22 at 5:00 p.m. There will be a team limit, so get your act together now. Teams will play two games; then, based on their record, all teams will go into playoffs. There are divisions for men and women.

IM Swim Meet - There is a time to BE ALL WET and this is it! Saturday, April 16 at Leighton Pool. This is a team event OR you may enter as an individual. There are novelty and regular events. Stop by the RIM Office and check out the events and get your team entered.

VOTE- Recreation and Intramurals encourages all students to accept the responsibility of voting in the ASUO Primary, April 13-14, and again in the ASUO General Election next week on April 20-21.

UO RECREATION & INTRAMURALS
103 Gerlinger Hall
x4113 or x4121

Budweiser presents this page as a service to students interested in recreation and intramurals. Publication of RIM News should not be interpreted in any way as an endorsement of the sponsor's product by the University of Oregon.

Dr. Robert Anthony
THE RESULTS PROGRAM
April 18-19,
7:30-9:30 PM
Church of Religious Science

"You can only have two things in life - Reasons or Results. Reasons don't count." Dr. Anthony, psychologist, author and teacher in the New Thought Movement will show you how to move from where you are right now to where you want to be. Clarify your thoughts, needs, and wants, develop win-win relationships, turn potential into performance and handle emotions effectively to obtain positive results! Plan to attend this dynamic two-evening seminar!

$25.00 Tax Deductible Donation Required.

Dr. Anthony will be speaking Sunday, April 17 at the 9:30 and 11:00 services. Once you give yourself the opportunity to hear Dr. Anthony, you will know you want to hear more!

CHURCH OF RELIGIOUS SCIENCE-
A Metaphysical Church Dedicated to Personal Growth
390 Vernal, Eugene (Coburg Rd. & Rustic) 485-0035