The Associated Students of the University of Oregon . . .

The ASUO Legal Services and Office of Student Advocacy merged on April 20 as a part of an experiment seeking ways to better serve student's legal needs.

The merger will allow the offices to work more closely and also allow the combined organizations to produce more legal research for the ASUO Executive Office.

Charles Spinner, director of Legal Services, and John Moore, OSA Director, announced the merger last week.

The main components of the merger will be Moore's move from EMU Suite 4 to Room 334A and his assumption of a legal assistant position.

Moore's office hours at Legal Services office will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Spinner's office hours and overall duties will remain the same.

Legal Services, founded in 1971, was one of the first student "pre-paid legal programs" in the United States and has served as the model for more than 30 similar organizations. Legal Services annually provides UO students with about $250,000 worth of the legal services they most want or need.

Friday May 6, Manteca from Portland will be featured at a special fiesta beergarden at 4 p.m. in the EMU Dining Room. The group plays Latin Salsa Music. Also featured at the fiesta will be Mexican beer and cuisine. Almandina from Chile will continue the folk festival with music from all of Latin America at 8 p.m. in the EMU Forum.

Saturday, the groups will play at the Saturday Market with special guest Macchu Picchu from California from noon till 2 p.m. At 8 p.m. in the EMU Forum, Macchu Picchu will perform a full show.

All events are free to the public.

Saturday May 14, the festivities commence again with the movie "Zoot Suit", showing at 7 and 9 p.m., 138 Gilbert. "Zoot Suit" retells the story of the 1943 Sleepy Lagoon murder trials from a Chicano perspective. There will be an admission charge.
