Statements:

Freshman Position

to serve two years. One to be elected.

Lawrence Teherani-Ami A position on the Board of Directors should be given priority by anyone that runs for this office. If elected I will serve this position to my fullest extent. I see it as an opportunity for me to fully understand the workings, inside and out, of a large business. It would also be a chance for me to serve the University and enable myself to become an integral part of the campus. I have had vast experience in retail merchandising. That along with my views on marketing are substantial reasons I am running for this position. Serving on various committees and being elected Student Body President of my high school, I have shown leadership qualities, ones that are needed to serve on an important board such as this. If elected I will uphold my duties as a student and as serving the board in the best interest of my peers.

Marie Hitz

Would you like to be an active member of the bookstore but don't know how? Each student and faculty member at this university is already a "member" of the Bookstore and is therefore entitled to certain privileges. These include textbook discounts, one-day photo processing, FREE check cashing, and among many others, the right to elect members to the Board of Directors of the Bookstore.

As a candidate for the freshman position in this year's elections, I feel I am adequately qualified to perform the duties required of me. I have held positions as Student Body Treasurer at my former high school, and as Dorm president fall term of 1982. I also currently hold a summer position as office manager for an Insurance Agency in Woodburn, Oregon.

I would be able to apply the knowledge I have acquired through these positions to the benefit of the Bookstore management.

I would like to encourage everyone to vote May 5th and 6th in this year's elections and to remember me, Marie Hitz, when electing your freshman candidate.

Francis Mohajerin

THE BOOKSTORE BELONGS TO YOU, the student. You are a stockholder and the main user of the bookstore. When I am elected to the board of directors, I will work towards goals to better serve you, such as:

EFFICIENCY IN OPERATIONS! So you can walk into the store and easily find what you need, quickly stop at the register then go onto more important business (especially at the start of the term in areas such as the textbook department).

A WELL PLANNED BUDGET! To spend less money more wisely and reinvesting within the bookstore to lower prices for you the student.

COMMUNICATION TO STUDENTS! It's your bookstore you should know what the board is doing and the board should hear your input through open meetings and by published agendas in the Emerald.

I am a competent and responsible candidate with fresh enthusiastic ideas and eager to represent you the student on the University of Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors. Please vote on May 5th and 6th for FRANCIS MOHAJERIN to serve two year terms.

Two to be elected.

David Harrison

To serve on the Bookstore Board of Directors and be an integral part of the Bookstore's operations would be an honor that I'd greatly enjoy. The Bookstore is owned by all of us and operates to convenience us. It is obligated to serve us as efficiently as possible. It must be responsive to the changing needs of the students and react quickly.

The Bookstore is operating smoothly and efficiently, and I would work to keep it that way. I would work to keep the text book discount rate at its current level and expand the services that the Bookstore provides. If you elect me, you will not be disappointed.

The Bookstore elections is important, and your vote does make a difference. Thank You.

Dean McCausland

Every student at this University is a stockholder in the University of Oregon Bookstore, Inc. It's your bookstore and it should run according to how you want it to be run. As a candidate for the sophomore position, I would like to see the Bookstore continue to operate to fulfill the student's needs.

There is always a need to improve the efficiency of a business. We, as students, are well aware of the problem of long lines when purchasing textbooks at the beginning of each term. This inefficient process can be improved. Prices are very important to today's college student. Currently, the Bookstore has one of the highest discounts on textbooks in the nation. I will work hard to see that this discount continues.

As a board member, I would be your representative. I feel I am qualified to do this. I would like to echo the needs of you, the students, to produce results for your benefit.

Vote for someone you can depend on, VOTE Dean McCausland for University of Oregon Bookstore Board.

Tim McCloskey

A position on the Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors is an office which carries with it much responsibility; that's why when casting your ballot you should vote responsibly-- vote for Tim McCloskey.

The Board of Directors is the University's voice in establishing pricing policies, textbook discounts, and re-investment of profits. Experience, involvement, and concern are all vital qualities a candidate for the Board must possess.

I'm experienced. I worked for two years in a commercial bank, my job included daily interaction with the Federal Reserve and having the responsibility of balancing over $1000,000 each day.

I'm involved; I have done volunteer work for the EMU Cultural Forum.

I'm concerned. I campaigned for seven months to help get my candidate elected to the Oregon State Legislature this November.

In today's election it is crucial voters elect board members who will listen to their concerns, that is why it's vital to vote responsibly. Vote Tim McCloskey.

Andrew Siegel

As a sophomore interested in Business Finance, I would like the opportunity to serve on the University of Oregon Bookstore's Board of Directors. My experience includes being closely tied to and well versed on corporate policy making. I have also been a purchasing advisor for retail business. Perhaps more simply and importantly, I am qualified because I use the Bookstore, as you do, and I have the desire to be directly involved in the affairs of the business.

We are all equal shareholders in the Bookstore, and therefore it should be operated in our best interest. Personally, I feel that the Bookstore needs to be efficient to give us better service and cheaper prices. Because the Bookstore is a "non-profit" organization, surplus funds should go towards more discounts for you, the shareholder. Communication is also important. Shareholders should be kept well informed and asked for input on any major policy changes. As a board member I would be an avenue of communication for all students, faculty and staff. I am always open and unbiased to new ideas and I have the skill to represent them.

Your voice is important in the Bookstore and in this election. Please vote for ANDREW SIEGEL.

Graduate Student Position

for two year term. One to be elected.

Henry W. Jacobson

On May 5th and 6th, elections will be held to fill the student positions on the University of Oregon Bookstore's Board of Directors. I ask that you consider Henry Jacobson as the candidate of choice for the graduate position.

As a first year MBA candidate (B.A. History, U.C. Davis), I believe I can offer an academic background that will assist the board in making the general administrative, marketing, control, and financial decisions that it faces.

As per articles II and III of the bookstore's articles of incorporation, I will work to insure that the bookstore provides the "benefits of non-profit purchasing" in meeting the needs of the University of Oregon academic community. Specifically, I would vote to maintain the current discount practices as long as the financial stability of the bookstore remains solid.

Having been both an undergraduate and a graduate purchaser of books and supplies, I well know the importance of having a dependable, efficient, and cost conscious bookstore. I look forward to the responsibility of helping to meet these needs for the academic community of the University of Oregon.

Faculty Position

for two year term. One to be elected.

C. W. Schminke

University Bookstore, Inc. is a corporation of utmost importance to the University community.

Its policies, practices and prices directly affect students, faculty and staff alike. Activities at recent annual meetings clearly indicate the corporation has been well managed. It is equally clear its Board of Directors has contributed to that efficacy in an active and positive manner. With my own candidacy, I am prepared to accept responsibility for continued operation of the Bookstore in the best interest of the University community. My own activities both on and off the campus provide a unique background from which to make valuable contributions when corporate policy is determined.

The Bookstore is responsible to the University but it's up to the Board of Directors to keep it that way. That's why it's so important for you to vote. Take a minute or two and review the candidates, and vote. A competent Board is crucial to the University's voice in operations. Without your vote the Bookstore may be without your representation. Keep the Bookstore believing in higher education not higher prices.

Please come vote today in front of the Bookstore, in the EMU or at 13th and University.
