Poles face prison term

WARSAW — The Polish government indicted Jacek Kuron and three other Solidarity advisers Thursday, but reduced the charges, removing the threat of the death penalty.

Kuron, Adam Michnick, Zbigniew Romaszewski and Henryk Wujec were charged with preparing to overthrow the communist system, the official PAP news agency reported.

If convicted, the four face prison sentences of up to 10 years. They were arrested in 1982 on charges of trying, not merely preparing, to overthrow the system, for which the maximum penalty is death.

Kuron was an adviser to Lech Walesa during the strike wave in the summer of 1980 that resulted in formation of the independent labor federation Solidarity. Kuron and the other members of his group counseled the union during its 16 months of existence before the declaration of martial law, generally urging cautious policies.

Picker finds human bones

COOS BAY — A mushroom picker discovered a human skeleton off U.S. 101 about 10 miles south of Coos Bay, state police said Thursday.

Detective Mike Ramsbee said that the bones appeared to have been there for a long time.

The skeleton, discovered Tuesday, was turned over to the Coos County medical examiner for tests in an effort to determine the person's identity, Ramsbee said.

He said authorities were uncertain whether foul play was involved.

Act adopted by Congress

WASHINGTON — Congress authorized Pres. Reagan on Thursday to keep 1,600 Marines in Lebanon for up to 18 months longer, turning aside warnings that the United States may be headed for an undeclared war like the one in Vietnam.

The Senate approved the proposal 54-46, with two Democrats joining 52 Republicans in approving the authorization sought by the GOP administration.

The House, which had approved the measure 270-161 Wednesday, had to vote on it again because of minor amendments adopted by the Senate. The House acted by 253-156 vote late Thursday, sending the measure to the president.

This is the first time Congress has invoked the War Powers Act, passed in 1973 to give the lawmakers more say about how the president deploys troops overseas. Reagan said he would sign the measure with reservations.

Reagan issued a statement after the Senate vote calling it "a strong signal to the world: America stands united; we speak with one voice, and we fulfill our responsibilities as a trustee of freedom, peace and self-determination."

Expansion cuts jobs

SALEM — Boise-Cascade Corp. announced Thursday it will spend $11 million to expand its Salem "converting" plant, but the expansion will cost about 45 jobs by the end of 1984.

The announcement laid to rest persistent rumors the giant wood products company was planning to close the Salem plant.

Boise-Cascade spokesman Sam Donaldson said the company had to expand and modernize its converting plant to remain competitive. He said the only real question was whether to expand and modernize the Salem plant or build a new plant elsewhere.

About 45 of the 170 jobs at the converting plant will be phased out by the end of next year, he said. Some of those 45 vacancies will be created by attrition and others by workers who will be laid off.

There goes the phone bill

SALEM — Oregon Public Utility Commissioner John Lobdell has authorized Cascade Utilities Inc., to raise residential telephone rates by as much as $2.62 a month, Lobdell's office said today.

Lobdell allowed the company to increase its revenue by $242,000 a year as an interim increase while he further considers the company's overall request for rate increases totaling $628,000 annually.

Lobdell allowed increases ranging from $3.16 to $8.41 a month for one-party business phone service.
