

Guard shines

Oregon offensive guard Gary Zimmerman, a pre-season Sporting News All-America selection, now has another laurel to add to his list.

Zimmerman was named Pac-10 Conference offensive player of the week for his efforts in Oregon's 279 yards rushing and 24-17 win against California last Saturday.

After the Ducks beat Cal, Oregon coach Rich Brooks called Zimmerman, "the best offensive lineman I've ever coached."

Wednesday, Brooks maintained that he still feels that way.

"He is a great football player who is having a great year," said Brooks.

Besides his duties as a guard on the offensive line, Zimmerman also serves as Oregon's snapper for punts and field goals.

"He had one bad snap (on a Kevin Hicks blocked punt), but other than that, his snaps have been right on the money this season," said Brooks.

Boddicker silences 'Wheeze Kids'

From Associated Press reports

Rookie Mike Boddicker pitched a three-hitter and drove in a run in only his second major league at-bat as the Baltimore Orioles evened the 1983 World Series at one game apiece Wednesday night with a 4-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in Baltimore.

The Orioles scored their first three runs in a fifth-inning surge ignited by John Lowenstein's leadoff homer and fueled by the bottom of the lineup, which until then had collected only four hits in postseason play.

Lowenstein also had a double and a single in the game.

Boddicker, a right-hander throwing a "fosh ball" — a combination forkball-changeup — allowed only an infield single by Joe Morgan in the fourth inning, a two-out single by Gary Matthews in the seventh and a bloop single by Bo Diaz in the eighth. Facing only three more batters than the minimum 27, he struck out three of the first four batters he faced and Orioles' outfielders were called upon for only four putouts.

As a topper, Boddicker struck out Mike Schmidt, the Phillies' slugging first baseman, to end the game.

Boddicker walked no one — the second night successive night Orioles pitchers issued no free passes.

The Phillies' only run was unearned, the result of an error by first baseman Eddie Murray in the fourth inning.

Baltimore's victory, on a Memorial Stadium field soaked by an all-day rain, sent the two teams to Philadelphia for Friday's third game even at 1-1 in the best-of-seven series. The Orioles will pitch left-hander Mike Flanagan, while the Phillies go with 300-game winner Steve Carlton.

Boddicker and Philadelphia's Charles Hudson were locked in a duel of rookie pitchers, only the fifth such meeting in World Series history, when Lowenstein struck in the fifth inning.

Before the inning was over, Boddicker had collected his first major-league RBI — batting in a year when the designated hitter is banned from the Series — Rich Dauer had broken an 0-for-18 postseason slump, some questionable fielding had let the Phillies down, and the Orioles had sent nine men to the plate.

After Lowenstein's homer to near straightaway center, 400 feet from home plate on a 2-0 pitch from Hudson — his second of three hits — Dauer came up as the Orioles' No. 6 hitter.
