Will Dupree be Sooner again?

From Associated Press reports

Marcus Dupree wants to rejoin the University of Oklahoma football team and will return to Norman, Okla., by Sunday, one of his teammates said Thursday.

But Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer, who said he would make a decision on whether to allow Dupree to return "based on what the team thinks," told reporters he doubted Dupree's sincerity.

"Why isn't he back here now if he really wants to come back?" Switzer said. "Why hasn't he committed himself? It's obvious to me he didn't want to, so we're going to go on and play without him."

Dupree, who has not been seen by a member of the Oklahoma program since Saturday's 28-16 loss to Texas, was dropped from the team by Switzer on Wednesday for failing to return to campus.

Even his mother initially was unaware of the Philadelphia, Miss., native's whereabouts, prompting authorities in that state to place his name on a missing persons list.

But Dupree turned up Wednesday night in Clinton, Miss., where he visited a friend at Mississippi College and called his family to say he was safe. He also called an Oklahoma assistant coach and said he was planning to return to Norman, although he didn't say when.

"Now that I've heard from him, I know he's all right, and that's all that matters," said his mother, Cella Dupree Connors. "He said he just needs some time to be alone, but he sounded OK."

Spencer Tillman, the Sooners' redshirt freshman fullback, said he spoke by telephone to Dupree on Wednesday.
