Dan Ralph (left) and Lerry Wilson have been imposing figures for Oregon football this year. Ralph had 12 tackles, a quarterback sack and four pass deflections versus Arizona, while Wilson had 20 tackles in Oregon's 15-14 win over Houston. Both were named Pac-10 defensive player of the week for their efforts.

Fearsome twosome paces resurgent Oregon defense

Football is a game where a team can often make its own breaks. And in its three victories this season, Oregon has made its own breaks.

In the Ducks' three wins, the defense has made the big breaks to allow the offense to put points on the scoreboard. After a start bordering on disaster, Oregon's defense has played like it owns opposing offenses.

Two of the reasons for the defensive resurgence are Dan Ralph and Lerry Wilson. Both have wreaked havoc on opposing offenses.

The similarities between the two are endless. Both are among team leaders in tackles, both have been named Pac-10 defensive player of the week this season, and both play with reckless abandon on the football field.

For Ralph, a 6-4, 268-pound senior defensive tackle from Boulder, Colo., football comes naturally. His physical strength (his 450-pound bench press is an Oregon record) enables him to do battle with any offensive lineman.

Oregon defensive coordinator Joe Schaffeld calls Ralph, "the kind of guy a football team needs — someone up front who is aggressive."

Ralph's aggressiveness is beginning to pay off for the Ducks. With his 12-tackle performance against Arizona, Ralph was tabbed conference player of the week, an accolade he wants to share.

"It's a real nice honor to get," Ralph says. "I really didn't expect it. I would like to share it with the defense because it took a great team effort to get recognized."

Saturday against Arizona, Ralph was practically a team by himself. He deflected four passes and had a quarterback sack in addition to his tackles, pro-

CAN YOU BUY GOOD TASTE?

Yes! Now you can acquire good taste for a couple of bucks. Just wear shirts and visors that say "Dos Equis." After all, those are foreign words. And anyone in college knows people who wear stuff with foreign words and alligators have good taste.

So, order your kind of good taste in Dos Equis sportswear today. And remember to eat your peanut butter and jelly sandwiches over the sink.

Order by mail. Send to "Dos Equis Offer" P.O. Box 10102, Portland, Oregon 97210. Send check or money order. Add 10% or $1 minimum, whichever is greater, for postage and handling.

Yes, both my socks match, so rush me the following "Your Kind of Taste" Sportswear.
