Notables

Oregon String Quartet members Lawrence Maves, Bernard McWilliams and Robert Hdlaky, all University faculty members, will present a concert at Beall Hall, Tues., Nov. 1. Admission is free for University students and senior citizens, and $2 for the general public. Works by Schubert, Beethoven and Dohnanyi will be featured.

La Bottine Souriante from Quebec will perform French Canadian folk music in the EMU Ballroom on Thurs., Nov. 3, at 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale at the EMU Main Desk — $3.50 for the general public; $3 for University students. The concert is sponsored by the Cultural Forum.

Craig Law, a photography professor at Utah State University in Logan, will give a free public lecture on his work, tonight at 7:30 in Lawrence Hall, room 107. Law's work has been on display during October in the University art museum. The exhibit runs through Nov. 1.

Nothing to do on a Saturday night? Don't want to do your laundry? Just hanging out at the University Inn? Why don't you give lovable Scott Baio a jingle on the phone and ask him about his latest album, "The Boys Are Out Tonight"?

Until Oct. 31 (appropriately Halloween) Baio (aka Chachi) can be reached by dialing 1-900-210-BAIO. Callers will hear the young Brooklyn-born star of the tiny screen tell about how to win a trip to Hollywood to meet him.

Baio made his singing debut several years ago on "Happy Days" and has already recorded two albums for RCA. Two albums that no record collector would want to miss. Can you name them?

Thanks to Baio's hit TV series, "Happy Days," and the spin-off, "Joanie Loves Chachi," as well as featured roles in artistic films like "Skatetown, U.S.A.," "Zapped" and "Foxes," Baio is one of America's rising young stars.

So leave the laundry until finals week and give Baio a call. He's waiting by the phone — anxiously.

Halloween parties are everywhere this weekend. Tonight, Oct. 28, the "Rocky Horror Masquerade Ball" with the Cashiers will be at the W.O.W. Hall. All ages are welcome; ID required for beer garden downstairs. Tickets are $3.50. Look for "prizes and surprises."

The Burners and The Party Kings will play Saturday at KZEL's Halloween bash at the Eugene Hilton on Mon., Oct. 31. Tickets are on sale now at Everybody's Records and Tapes for $4.96. Cash and prizes for best costume.

Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor" will be staged by The Acting Company at the Hult Center Sunday, Oct. 30. Tony award nominee Michael Kahn is artistic director of the company which is on a national tour for the Kennedy Center. Showtime is 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Hult Box Office for $8.25, $9.25 and $10.25.
