

The spirit is willing

This ghostly group seems to be looking for some "ice scream" at the Baskin-Robbins in the EMU breezeway. What flavors would they be searching for? Probably something nutty-marvelous.

This ghostly group actually is University students Adam Schultz and Andrea Thompson. The short one is Solomon Hart, who's almost four Halloweens old. They group spent part of Thursday afternoon spiring about campus celebrating Halloween a bit early.

Photo by Ken Kromer

Area groups meet over parking plan

By Michele Matassa
Of the Emerald

Angry members of three West University organizations met with Eugene parking staff Thursday night to voice concerns about the controversial West University Neighborhood parking plan.

The "advisory" meeting, designed to develop solutions to the groups' concerns, followed three nights of individual meetings between the city staff and each group: University students, Sacred Heart Hospital employees and Bureau of Land Management employees.

The city staff scheduled the meetings after the City Council, on Oct. 10, delayed decision on an appeal of the parking plan until more input was gathered. The Council will reconsider the plan Nov. 9.

If the Council approves the plan, enforcement will begin Dec. 1. Parking in the neighborhood bound by 18th Avenue, Oak Street, Hilyard Street and Broadway would be limited to two hours for drivers without a special permit. The permit costs $17.50 for non-residents and is free for residents.

That fee is one concern raised by the employees and University representatives at Thursday's meeting.

They spent more than half of the meeting rehashing complaints and scolding the city staff for not including them in the initial planning phase of the project. But the groups did raise some possible solutions and staff members assured them that the suggestions will be considered.

The group decided to meet Wednesday and react to staff work on those suggestions, most of which required cooperation from administrators at the three organizations.

But cooperation with University administration on these solutions isn't easy to achieve, said Barbara McCarthy, ASUO director of University affairs.

"The administration has yet to say they'll change things."

Traffic Engineer Jim Hanks felt a little more optimistic. "They realize they're going to be faced with a problem in December if they don't do something about it," he said.

Oops — we blew it

Due to copy-editing errors a number of persons were improperly identified in Thursday's Emerald.

On page 1, Dave Ridenour was incorrectly identified as Mike Ridenour. The photo captions on page 12 contained two naming errors. Bill Snyder was incorrectly identified as Dave Snyder and Kenmar Bual was confused with his brother Ramon Bual.

We regret any confusion this may have caused.

the spaghetti warehouse "BRING THE GANG"

SPAGETTI?
PIZZA?

Come to the Spagetti Warehouse
ALL YOU CAN EAT NITES

Every Friday and Saturday from 5 p.m. til closing

Don't Miss this One!

725 West 1st, Eugene 484-1919

Come to Sy's for delicious real
New York pizza

Get 10c off any slice plus a FREE Soda

Offer good this weekend only Fri. & Sat.
11:30-Midnight Mon.-Fri. • 3:30-Midnight - Weekends

Sy's Pizza

1211 Alder On Campus 686-9598

Ultrasonic pen cleaning to make your technical pen work like new!
At your Bookstore in the Art Dept.

Candy it aint!

Mr. Boston Schnapps.

Look for Mr. Boston's two new cookbooks, the Cordial Cooking Guide and the Spirited Dessert Guide. Available at bookstores or through Warner Books: 75 Rockefeller Plaza, Special Sales, Dept. B, New York, New York 10019
Mr. Boston Schnapps, 54, 60, and 100 proof. Produced by Mr. Boston Distiller, Owensboro, KY, Albany, GA © 1982