Compromise bill passed

WASHINGTON — Congress passed and sent to the White House Wednesday a compromise bill to extend the life of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission for five years, but change its makeup. Pres. Ronald Reagan has already pledged to sign the bill, a compromise between civil rights groups, liberal and conservative lawmakers and the White House. The House passed the measure by voice vote. It was approved by the Senate earlier.

Until the compromise was forged last week, the continued life of the commission was threatened by a dispute over Reagan's control of the agency.

Reagan claimed the right to dismiss commissioners who disagreed with him, and the dispute became especially bitter with his recent firing of three commission members who opposed his policies.

Under the new plan, the commission will have eight members instead of six and be equally divided between Democrats and Republicans. Four of the new members will be appointed by the president while the remaining four will be appointed by Congress. They will serve six-year terms and can be fired only for neglect of duty or malfeasance.

PLO forced out of Tripoli

TRIPOLI — Guerrilla mutineers drove Yasser Arafat's fighters out of their last Mideast stronghold in fierce hand-to-hand combat at the Baddawi refugee camp Wednesday.

At the same time, Israeli jets flew reprisal raids against Moslem extremist bases in Lebanon's Bekaa Valley.

Unconfirmed radio reports said 100 were killed and 600 wounded in the final Syrian-backed onslaught on Baddawi, and that 33 were killed and 80 wounded in the Israeli air strikes on the Janta and Shaara camps in the Bekaa Valley, just three miles from the Syrian border.

"They entered the camp in the early afternoon," said one Palestine Liberation Organization official who asked not to be named. "Eventually, we had to get out. We can't match them."

The official said that some clashes continued on the southern edge of Baddawi after nightfall, but "very limited."

Arafat appeared at his headquarters in Tripoli early in the afternoon, but made no public statement. He left the headquarters a few minutes later, along with his military adviser, Khalil Wazir, for another location in Tripoli.

The beleaguered Arafat has said he will leave Tripoli only when he has guarantees of safety for his fighters and Palestinian civilians. He has given his probable destination as Tunis, where he set up headquarters 15 months ago after the Israelis forced him and his guerrillas out of Beirut. Beirut radio said the mutineers were led by Ahmed Jibril, the head of a small, radical PLO faction backed by both Syria and Libya, which accuse Arafat of abandoning military struggle against Israel. The attack began with a Syrian artillery assault, followed by either a Syrian or rebel tank charge.

At least 1,000 people were reported killed in the first week of the PLO war in Tripoli, which broke out Nov. 3. On Nov. 6 the mutineers overran the loyalist camp of Nahr el-Bared, and Arafat's men fled to Baddawi. It was not known how many loyalists were in Baddawi when the mutineers fought their way in.

Buses run; strike holds

PORTLAND — Greyhound plans to resume bus service to Oregon's three largest cities Thursday.

The limited service will include four daily runs between Portland to Salem and Eugene and three daily runs between Portland to Seattle.

New drivers, replacing those on strike, made dry runs from Portland to Eugene and Seattle Tuesday to familiarize themselves with the routes and the machines they will be operating.

"Our new drivers are getting thoroughly acquainted with their routes and also finishing up their classroom training," said Don Miller, Greyhound district manager in Portland.

Miller wouldn't say how many new drivers would be operating buses in the state Thursday. However, he said about 150 people either were interviewed or applied for driver positions Tuesday.

"I have no doubt we'll have more than enough drivers for our needs," he said.

Local 1055 spokesmen said six of their 600 members had crossed picket lines and returned to work Monday in response to an ultimatum from the company that they go back to their jobs or be replaced.

Earthquake hits Hawaii

HILO, Hawaii — A strong earthquake jolted the island of Hawaii on Wednesday, damaging homes, breaking gas and water lines and disrupting telephone service. Four people suffered minor injuries.

The quake, which struck at 6:13 a.m. (11:13 a.m. EST), registered 6.7 on the Richter scale, said the Pacific Tsunami Warning Center in Honolulu. Some residents said it lasted a full minute.

"It was terrible. The house shook like mad; I thought it was going to come down on me," said Martha McNicoll of Hilo. "My house is a mess, everything is broken. I thought it would never quit."

It was centered on the southwest flank of Mauna Loa Volcano, about 70 miles southwest of Hilo, and did not generate a great wave on the Pacific, the center said. The quake was not an indication of an imminent eruption of Mauna Loa, said John Erickson, spokesman for Hawaii Volcanos National Park. Scientists are predicting a major eruption at Mauna Loa within the next year.

Foat found innocent

GRETNA — A jury found California feminist leader Ginny Foat innocent Wednesday of murdering an Argentine businessman 18 years ago, rejecting as lies the testimony by her ex-husband who had implicated her.

"Thank you, thank you, everyone," Foat, 42, said to friends and supporters who cheered in the packed state District Court chamber as the jury returned its verdict after less than two hours of deliberations.

The six-man, six-woman jury had gotten the case after a plea from Foat's attorneys to look on John Sidote, her ex-husband and the prosecution's star witness, as "a crazy man and a liar."

Foat was charged with clubbing Argentine toymaker Moises Chayo to death with a tire iron in a New Orleans suburb in 1965 while robbing him of $1,400 cash.

Jurors said the verdict was unanimous for acquittal on the first vote.

"We covered all the angles. There was no disagreement," juror Anna Marie Whited said. "We voted. There was just one vote."

Had the jury found her guilty of murder, she could have been sentenced to life in prison. A manslaughter verdict could have brought a 21-year term.

Sidote testified that Foat lured Chayo out of the bar, and the two of them killed him after robbing him of the money he carried to pay his son's hospital bill.

Sidote, serving an unrelated prison term in Nevada, was promised immunity from prosecution in the Chayo case in return for his cooperation.

Assistant District Attorney Tom Porteous said the jury was being misled if it accepted Foat's attempts to picture herself as a weak person dominated by someone else.

He accused her of lying during her two days on the stand.
