

Racing for a national title

Women runners chase NCAA crown

By Todd Fletcher
Of the Emerald

Oregon women's cross country shoots for a national title today when it battles 15 other teams at the NCAA Cross Country Championships in Bethlehem, Pa.

However, Oregon will not be the favorite to win today's meet, although it has been the team to beat in all its other races.

"Seven teams can finish in the top three, and all of them have a chance to win," says Oregon coach Tom Heinonen.

Emerald Photo

Kathy Hayes (left) and Lisa Martin are Oregon's individual title hopes at today's NCAA Cross Country Championships.

Heinonen isn't ready to concede the meet yet. "I think we're right up there," he says. "We handled some people pretty easily last weekend (at District 8 championships). We could easily finish in the top five if things go right."

Oregon's coach picks Stanford University as the meet favorite if top runner Ceci Hopp can compete. She was unable to finish the District 8 race because of a bad hip, but finished third at last year's NCAA meet.

"If Hopp runs, Stanford is the team to beat, but if she can't, it will be wide open," says Heinonen.

For Oregon to win, Heinonen admits, "seven (Oregon) runners are going to have to run really well and six other teams have to fail."

Oregon's Kathy Hayes, a valid contender for an individual title, says her team doesn't know much about its opponents.

"We know what we can do, we just don't know what everybody else can do," Hayes says.

Tennessee, North Carolina State, Clemson, Wisconsin and Iowa State can do a lot, according to Heinonen. He labels those five the teams to watch.

In the duel for the individual crown, Hayes faces North Carolina State's Betty Jo Springs, the 1981 NCAA winner, Wisconsin's Cathy Branta and Missouri's Sabrina Dornhoefer of Missouri. Springs and Dornhoefer have not lost a race this season.

Oregon's Lisa Martin, too, has an outside shot at winning today's race.

"If it's a good day and I feel good I'll run with the lead," says Martin. "I would be very happy to finish in the top five and disappointed if I'm out of the top 10."

In addition to Hayes and Martin, Oregon sends Kim Roth, Kim Ryan, Claudette Groenendaal, Gretchen Nelson and Birgit Petersen to the meet at Lehigh University.

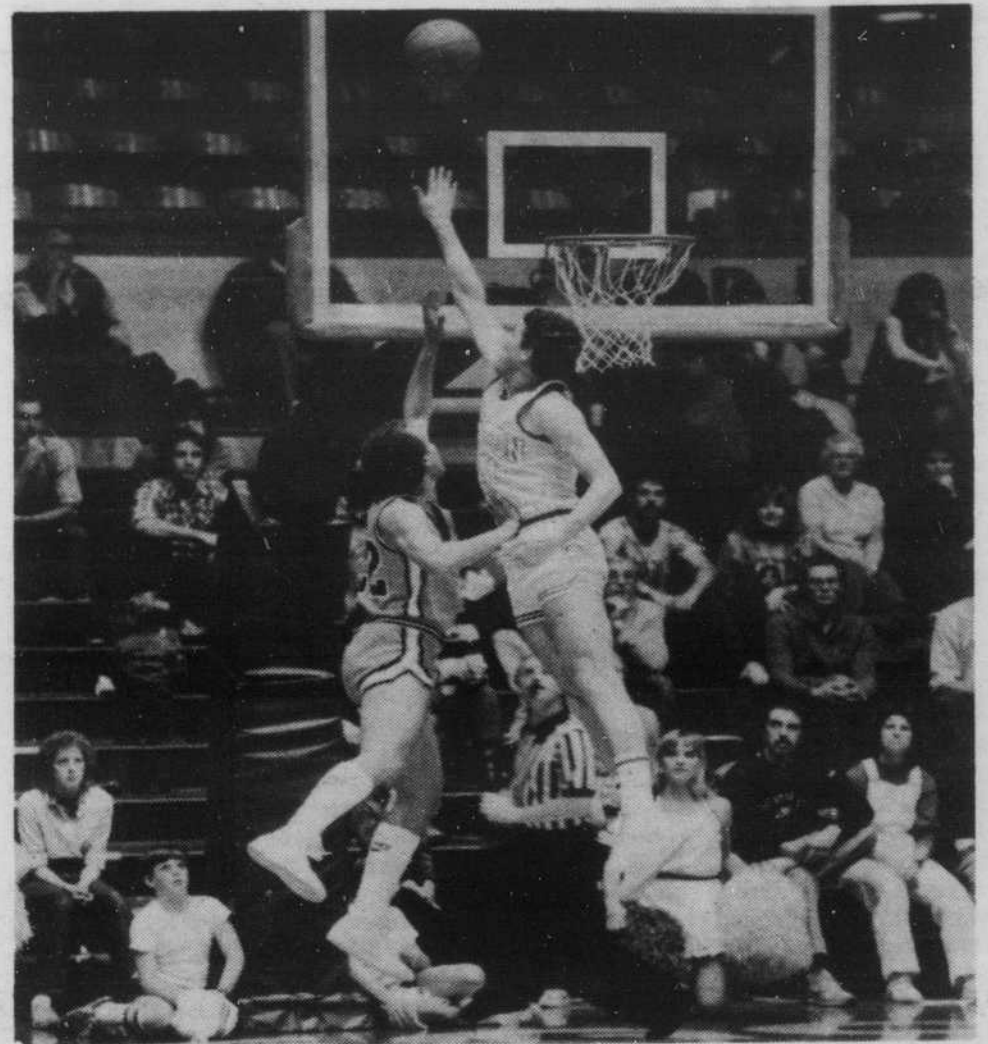

Roth, who has been Oregon's third runner behind Hayes and Martin all season, finished 41st at nationals as a freshman in 1982; Groenendaal was 101st a year ago.

Ryan makes her first trip to nationals after finishing eighth at the District 8 meet. Heinonen says he's confident in his prize freshman.

"Ryan is running better and better every week," he says. "Right now she is sky high."

Nelson and Petersen get their first taste of national competition today as well, so there is some pressure on the Ducks.

Martin, however, has a way to ease that pressure. "It would really be nice to bring a title back," she says.

Look familiar?

John Greig (right) flies through the air in an attempt to block Ray Blume's layup, but this wasn't Oregon-Oregon State Pac-10 basketball. The two recent graduates were playing in the first Civil War alumni basketball game Friday night at McArthur Court.

The game matched ex-Ducks and Beavers from the 1950's to 1982 in a fundraiser for the athletic departments at both schools.

With 2,000 in attendance, guys like Bruce Coldren, John Murray and Robbie Closs duked it out against Rob Holbrook, Danny Evans and Bill McShane — just like in the old days.

Unfortunately, the score was just like a lot of the old days. The Beavers widened their lead from 16-11 to 33-17 to 41-19 to 57-29, and finally, it was the old men from Corvallis taking it to the Eugene alums, 109-72.

Photo by Dave Kao

et al.

MEETINGS

ASKLEPIADS are having a meeting Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7 p.m. at Chi Psi Fraternity, 1018 Hilyard St. to hear cardiologist Dr. Dennis Gory speak about his education and current practice.

OSPIRG is having a local board meeting today at 6:30 p.m. All interested students, as well as those currently involved in project groups, are encouraged to attend.

AFS RETURNEE CLUB meeting today in the EMU Fishbowl at 6 p.m. Agenda includes the newsletter and distributing information packets. For more information, call Karen, 485-1593, eves.

STUDENTS FOR A NUCLEAR FREE FUTURE (SNuFF) will meet today at 5:30 p.m. in Room 110 EMU. All interested students are encouraged to attend.

THE JOURNALISM SCHOOL will host a career meeting for those interested in Advertising from 3 to 5 p.m. today in Room 211 Allen.

CONCERNED ABOUT THE SOLOMON AMENDMENT? ERA? Assaults on civil rights? Then do something about it. Attend the meeting of the ACLU, today at 7 p.m. EMU Century A. For more details, call Tom Birkland at 344-4167, or 686-4890.

THE COLLEGE REPUBLICANS will hold a general meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in EMU Century Room B. Everyone is welcome to attend.

LECTURES

BIOLOGY SEMINAR by Stanley Sessions on "Development from an Evolutionary Perspective" Nov. 22 at 4 p.m. in Room 317 Science III.

INTERVIEWS

CAMPUS INTERVIEWS: Check in Career Planning &

Placement for qualifications.

NOV. 30: UDF Computer Systems (For LMS Programmer).

NOV. 30-DEC. 1: U.S. Marine Corps (For Officer). Also at EMU.

DEC. 1: U.S. Air Force (For Pilot/Navigator/Meteorology/Comm. Electronics).

DEC. 2: Georgia Pacific Corporation (For Junior Accountant).

DEC. 2: Pepperdine University, School of Law (For Law School) Group Meeting: 9-10 a.m. EMU Century Room A.

DEC. 2: Willamette University, Atkinson Graduate School of Management (For Graduate School).

DEC. 2: Willamette University, College of Law (For Law School).

PLEASE SIGN UP IMMEDIATELY if interested in interviewing with the following recruiters:

NOV. 21, 22: U.S. Marine Corps (For Officer).

NOV. 22: Carter Wallace, Inc. (Wallace Laboratories) (For Pharmaceutical Sales Rep).

MISCELLANEOUS

WOMEN IN TRANSITION Brown Bag Lunch today from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Faculty Club. Everyone is welcome.

JOIN OTHER CONCERNED STUDENTS in a silent peace circle today, at 12:15 p.m. in the EMU Courtyard. A discussion afterward will be held for those who would like to share their feelings about "The Day After" and ideas for action. Sponsored by Students for a Nuclear Free Future.

SOCIOLOGY FACULTY RESEARCH is the topic of a panel discussion on Nov. 22 at 3:30 p.m. in the EMU Forum Room. Speakers will be Steven Deutsch, Patricia Gwartney-Gibbs, Miriam Johnson, Robert O'Brien, and Jack Whalen. For more information call Sociology Peer Advisors at 686-5012.

ARE YOU A WOMAN IN CRISIS, needing a referral, or just wanting to talk with another woman about your difficulty? Call the Women's Hotline 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. seven nights a week at 344-1227.

NON-VIOLENCE TRAINING Come learn about violence, non-violent direct action, consensus decision making, affinity groups and much more. Bring pen and paper, a snack to share and a pillow. Today, 6 p.m. at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid.

YUDIE, a film about an elderly immigrant Jewish woman, will be shown tonight at 9 p.m. IMC studio B. free. Sponsored by Russian and East European Studies Center.

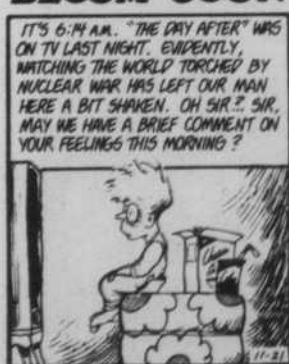

THE UO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA will present its fall concert at 8 p.m. in Beall Concert Hall.

VET WORKS, Veteran Employment Services, is seeking donations for their periodic garage sales. Donations are tax deductible and will support local employment development services for all Veterans. For more information call: 345-7885.

THE EUGENE DISARMAMENT COALITION, consisting of 14 local peace and disarmament groups is sponsoring an informational clearinghouse at the Eugene Public Library today from 12:30 to 9 p.m. Contact 343-8548 (CALs) or 686-4248 (SNuFF) for more information.

THE NEXT LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE WOMEN'S Program Brown Bag Talk will be "Alternative Recreation For Women." Whitewater rafting, survival training, rockhounding and running are recreation activities which a panel will discuss on Wednesday, Nov. 30, from 12 to 1:30 in the LCC Board Room of the administration building. For more information, call 747-4501, ext. 2353.

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

Peace on Earth

NOEL NOTES

to men and women

Wish your friends a happy holiday season with a Noel Note — special Christmas Classifieds in the Emerald on Dec. 12. Just $1.50 for 15 words if placed by 1 p.m. Dec. 9 at ODE office, 300 EMU, EMU Main Desk, UO Bookstore. Make your ad extra special with holiday art, available at the same locations.