Concerts in the park

It's doubtful that anyone will see Simon and Garfunkel pack Amazon Park West, but it's a sure bet music and theater fans will enjoy performances by top Eugene players in the city's parks this summer.

The Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is currently sponsoring "Concerts in the Park," and "Noon on the Mall," two smorgasboards of local entertainment fare. Performances by popular Eugene groups such as C. Rider Dance Company, Le Jazz Hot, The Whitetones and O Carolyns Consort highlight the summer series.

The concerts will be held at five city parks: Amazon Park, 27th Avenue and Hilyard Street; Skinner Butte Park; Westmoreland Community Center, 22nd Avenue and Fillmore Street; University Park, 24th Avenue and University Street; and Monroe Park, 10th Avenue and Monroe Street. The Noon on the Mall shows are held at the Fountain Area of the Downtown Mall. The series will continue through August.

Art, wine and music slated

Some of Oregon's finest art, wine and music will be featured at Art in the Vineyard, Lane County's first-annual combination Wine Tasting and Art Auction to be held Sunday, July 15 at Forgeron Vineyards.

More than 100 pieces of art by local artists will be up for viewing and bidding during the afternoon of wine tasting and hor d'oeuvres munching, as well as a multi-media presentation on the history of winemaking by local oenologist Bob Sogge.

A wide variety of music, including jazz orchestras, country and classical groups, and string quartets, will entertain wine connoisseurs in the afternoon, and the internationally famous Lucerne Singers and Flag Throwers from Switzerland, accompanied by the Swiss Folklore Players, will perform at approximately 2:00.

Tickets for the event, which is being sponsored by the Eugene Rotary and the Maude Kerns Art Center, are $5 for adults. Minors will be admitted free of charge but, of course, they won't be allowed to taste the wines. Tickets are available at Mark's Hallmark Shops and Of Grape and Grain.

A silent art auction begins when the gates open at 1:00 and ends at 4:00. The oral art auction, one of Art in the Vineyard's main events, will begin at 4:30 and go until 7:00.

Proceeds from this non-profit afternoon will benefit Eugene's Anti-Drug abuse programs, Rotary Charities, and the Maude Kerns Art Center.

To get to Forgeron Vineyards go north from Elmira on Territorial Road, turn east on Warthern Road, then turn north again on Sheffler Road.

WELCOME TO FAMILY HOUSING

The University of Oregon maintains two apartment communities to provide a friendly, supportive environment for over 650 students and their families.

Both the Amazon and Westmoreland developments not only offer you an inexpensive housing alternative, but also give you the chance to be neighbors with people of similar interests and to have easy access to numerous free or inexpensive services, facilities and programs.

Both communities have playgrounds for children, central recreation rooms, and childcare facilities. Each has an active resident government which offers services such as craft and exercise classes, single-parent support groups, kid's movies and parties, and parenting classes. Each has convenient coin-operated laundries and a recycling program.

WESTMORELAND

Office: 2065 West 16th Way

The Westmoreland apartment complex contains 408 units in duplexes and fourplexes. The complex is about four miles from the campus and two miles from downtown Eugene, both accessible by public bus. It is also close to grocery and variety stores. Rent is $113 per month (One Bedroom)/$142 (Two Bedroom) including water, sewer and garbage service.

AMAZON

Office: 2312 Patterson St.

Amazon Housing offers 242 two-bedroom unfurnished apartments. Amazon is located about a half-mile from campus. Parking is provided. Grocery stores are near by. Rent is $118 per month including water, sewer, garbage service.

Eligibility

University of Oregon Family Housing is open to married couples with or without children. Family housing also is open to single parents who have full custody of their children. One bedroom apartments may be occupied by one or two adults and a child less than a year old. Two bedroom apartments may have as many as two adults and three children. One member of the family must be a fulltime UO student three of the four terms each year.

Now accepting single graduate students on a limited basis for Amazon housing. Please contact the Housing Office for details: 686-4280

Assignment priority is based on financial means, class standing, and date application is received. A lease agreement is for an academic term.

How To Apply:

Application packages are available in the UO Housing Office. No deposit is required to apply. A $50 deposit and the first month's rent will be requested at the time an assignment is offered. Class standing priorities close July 31 for fall term and six weeks prior to the beginning of winter, spring, and summer terms.

UO Housing Dept. is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.
