University Theatre to begin new season

The University Theatre's 1984-85 season begins Oct. 18 with the comic-drama Excursion Fare and then runs the gamut from Moliere's classic French comedy "Tartuffe" to the annual dance concert "Dance '85."

The Theatre will also present Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" and Shakespeare's

"Romeo and Juliet." Award-winning designer Alexandra Bonds will create the costumes for "Romeo and Juliet."

Season tickets are now on sale at the box office. Prices range from $20 for the general public, $16 for seniors and $14 for University students. At a mere $2.80 per show this may be the student entertainment value of the year.

Change

realistic way to affect change in the November election is to vote for Democratic candidates.

Change organizer Andrew Purkey noted that many non-partisan political organizations are committed to the program. "There are many such programs across the country, but I think Oregon's is the most well organized," he said.

Deustch emphasized that Change in '84 does not represent the views of the University or any academic department — "We're simply exercising our constitutional rights as citizens."
