

Duck volleyballers get sweep in Washington

By Robert Collias

The Oregon volleyball team opened its NorPac season with convincing wins over Washington State University and the University of Washington this weekend to move their conference record to 2-0.

The 13th-ranked Ducks had little trouble beating the Washington schools. All-America candidate Sue Harbour and her teammates thrashed WSU 15-3, 15-13 and 15-7 on Friday night in Pullman, Wash. Oregon finished the sweep with a three-game victory over Washington 15-6, 15-5 and 15-6 in Seattle.

The Ducks played both games without hitter Cynthia Shepherd who suffered a broken finger in practice. The Ducks' frontline problems were further compounded when Shepherd's replacement, Laurie Krejcha, sprained an ankle early in the WSU contest.

Oregon coach Chris Voelz replaced Shepherd and Krejcha with sophomore Heidi Eakin and freshman Laurie Hattermer. "Both played very well," said Voelz who saw her team raise its record to 14-6 on the year.

The key to both victories was the play of Harbour and Oregon setter Lisa Gemoya.

"Those two are our big play people, the ones we count on in a pinch," said Voelz. Gemoya and Harbour's performance squelched any upset hopes the Cougars had with the Ducks sporting a depleted lineup.

Gemoya had three service aces while Harbour led the team with 10 kills.

Against the Huskies in Seattle, Harbour and Gemoya again showed why both have a chance to be selected All-America this year. Most of Harbour's 18 kills were set up by the excellent passing of Gemoya.

The Washington match was also an opportunity for Voelz to utilize her bench and give her freshmen some playing time.

"At one point in the match, I had five freshmen and Harbour on the floor," said Voelz. "There's nothing like experience, and I'm happy we could get everyone out on the floor."

The Ducks play their first home match of the year against in-state rival Oregon State University. The Civil War matchup will start at 7:30 p.m. in MacArthur Court.

"You can throw the record book out the window, when it comes to the Beavers," says Voelz. "They always find a way to play us tough."
