Townpeople termed 'bigots'

RAJNEESHPURAM (AP) — The personal secretary to Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh said Sunday that residents of a nearby town "deserve to be scared" that homeless people may be dumped there with too little money to return home.

"They deserve to be scared because they are bigoted," Ma Anand Sheela said of Madras residents. "When we have bigoted people from Madras come (here) with guns and other things, we deal with them. It happens often."

The mayor of Madras, 45 miles southeast of Rajneeshpuram, has said he is advising people to lock their doors to protect themselves against the homeless who may be left there after being bused to Rajneeshpuram. A city of 2,300, Madras is the nearest sizable town to the religious sect's 2-year-old commune-city.

About 2,000 homeless people — enough to outnumber the Rajneesh population of 1,700 — now are housed in the central Oregon city-commune, Ma Anand Sheela said. Hundreds more have left the commune via buses from Madras.

OSU professor shot and killed

CORVALLIS (AP) — Thomas C. Hogg, a professor of anthropology and assistant dean of research at Oregon State University, was shot and killed while deer hunting on the southeast slope of Mary's Peak.

Hogg, 48, was hunting with three companions in an area of low brush and few trees when he was shot Saturday, the first day of the deer-hunting season.

Peter F. Sandrock Jr., Benton County district attorney, said Hogg was one of three hunters driving a deer toward another hunter at the bottom of a hill.

"Hogg was in the middle of a line of three," he said. "I don't know which member of the party shot him. Several shots were fired at one time, and he was hit in the chest."

Sandrock said he did not know the names of the other three hunters in the party. Sgt. Ben Miller of the Oregon State Police would not disclose the names, saying the information was not pertinent.

Hogg received his bachelor's degree in history and anthropology from the University of Oregon in 1958. In 1963, he earned a master's degree in anthropology and sociology, and in 1965, he received his doctorate from the University.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara Hogg, and two daughters.

ATT office to close in Salem

SALEM (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is closing its Oregon consumer sales and service headquarters in Salem, eliminating a $1.7 million payroll.

The move, part of a nationwide reorganization, will not affect Oregon AT&T service, company officials said. However, a union official termed the announcement "devastating" to local workers.

Sue Pisha, a Portland-based representative of the Communications Workers of America, said some workers had moved as many as three times in recent months and had been assured the office would remain in Salem.

The closure will take effect Nov. 30. It does not affect 80 employees at AT&T's long distance telephone office in downtown Salem.

The 73 workers, some wearing mourning black, learned of the closure at a Friday meeting in their Oak Hills Shopping Center office. They had heard rumors of the closure earlier in the week, and got official word from Tom Haslam, the Seattle-based regional manager for the consumer sales and services division.

Shultz calls talks positive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George Shultz said Sunday that the opportunity for holding productive negotiations with Moscow has been improved, but he declined to characterize last week's talks between Pres. Ronald Reagan and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as "very positive."

In an appearance on ABC-TV's "This Week with David Brinkley," Shultz said that as a result of the nearly nine hours of talks, "the chances of a more constructive dialogue with the Soviet Union...are reasonably good."

Walter Mondale told reporters Sunday that the Reagan-Gromyko session was an "apparent failure in arms control," and "both disappointing and a basis for apprehension" because it raised doubts about "which Reagan will we see" if he wins a second term.

"Will we see the Reagan who for four years has engineered an arms race...or will we see a Reagan who, as he has in the past week, talks about peace?" he said.
