

The University of Southern California's

School of Public Administration offers a specialized program leading to a Master's Degree in Public Administration with a certificate in Judicial Administration. The thirty-six unit MPA includes: Coursework in the basics of public administration applicable to the court environment; research, policy analysis, finance, budgeting and personnel, as well as courses in civil and criminal procedure.

Dr. Donald Fuller of the Judicial Administration Program will be on campus Monday afternoon, October 15, 1984, to speak with interested students. Call the Placement Center at 686-3235, for more information.

Fun Olympics begin Saturday

The Lane County Special Olympics will benefit from a Fun Olympics to be held for 15 consecutive weeks beginning Saturday. The weekend sessions last from 9:30 to 11 p.m.

O'Callahan's Restaurant, 440 Coburg Rd., will be the venue as four-member teams from fraternities and sororities, local businesses, schools, etc., compete in several "fun" elimination events.

Events include "Dress your partner," a blindfold game in which teams will be given 60 seconds to dress one member in a variety of unusual costume items; a chin-to-chin fruit pass; and a no-hands pie-eating contest.

Each team will be charged a $20 entry fee, and there is a $2 cover charge for spectators. Teams will receive participation trophies, and competitors will receive T-shirts. A grand prize trophy will be awarded to the first-place team at the end of 15 weeks.

The Lane County Special Olympics gives mentally retarded youth the opportunity to train and compete in athletic events. Special Olympics provides the foundation for building self-confidence and a positive self-image, as well as development of physical skills.

The Special Olympics has grown locally from a single track-and-field meet to a 14-sport program that includes gymnastics, swimming, basketball, softball, soccer and bowling.

For more information about participating, call Toni Ries of the Lane County Special Olympics at 747-3536 or Tim Merrill of O'Callahan's at 343-1221.

Theft also suspected in Straub incident

Police suspect more than arson occurred Friday in a Straub Hall fire that caused at least $500 damage to a professor's office.

Two thefts which occurred in the PLC and one in Straub Hall could have been committed by the same person who started the fire, according to Sgt. Chuck Tilby of the Eugene Police Department.

A man was seen in the fire area shortly before the blaze. He is described as a white male, 55 to 60 years old, weighing 160 pounds with short grey or white hair. He was wearing a light blue shirt, tan pants and has a prominent nose, Tilby said.

A man matching the description was seen in PLC around 10 a.m. when the thefts occurred there and about five minutes before the noon fire in Straub Hall.

Property

With a change in the preception of land rights has come a fundamental revision of progress, he said.

"Old buildings used to be taken down and replaced, but this is no longer the case," he said.

Movements in wilderness and inner-city historic preservation have helped to bring this change, but the development of history taking its course and the change in public values, progress is now in the light of a cost-benefit relation, Sax said.

Symbols of our culture can be found in our national treasures. Historic preservation outweighs private, full ownership of property, Sax said.

Before Sax's speech, Derrick Bell, law school dean, paid tribute to the late George Streisinger, a University biologist who died unexpectedly in August.
