Bevacqua lifts San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Kurt Bevacqua atoned for a rally-killing blunder in Game One with a three-run homer, vaulting San Diego to a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night and a split of the first two games of the 1984 World Series.

The American League champion Tigers scored three runs in the first inning off Ed Whitson, but this time, Padres' Manager Dick Williams made his move before it was too late. Williams removed Whitson with one out left in the inning, and relief pitcher Andy Hawkins turned giant-killer.

Hawkins, a part-time starter who had two complete games during the season, pitched 5 1-3 innings, gave up just one hit before he gave way to left-hander Craig Lefferts, who started the seventh.

The Padres scratched back with a run in the first on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and another in the fourth on a fielder's choice grounder by Bobby Brown that scored Bevacqua to make it 3-2.

In the fifth, the Padres finally chased Tigers' starter Dan Petry, 18-8 during the season, with Bevacqua's three-run homer. In San Diego's 3-2 loss in Game One, Bevacqua had knocked the Padres out of a potential rally by stumbling while trying to stretch a leadoff double in the seventh inning into a triple. But Williams kept his faith in the 37-year-old designated hitter and moved him up three notches to sixth in the batting order.

His home run came after a walk to Nettles and a bad hop single by Terry Kennedy on a shot that bounced off second baseman Lou Whitaker's chest.

As he watched the ball sail into the left field seats, Bevacqua jumped in the air and spun around at first base. He pumped the No. 1 sign with a finger as he rounded second, and as he trotted around third, Bevacqua pressed both hands against his lips and blew a kiss to the crowd of 57,911 at Jack Murphy Stadium. Even in his moment of infamy on Tuesday night, they had not booed him. Now, they cheered him.

He wound up with three hits in the game, as did teammates Alan Wiggins and Garry Templeton.

The victory kept the Padres alive as the Series moves to Detroit for games No. 3, 4 and 5 on Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. No team had ever lost the first two games at home and come back to win a best-of-7 Series.

Hawkins also pitched two scoreless innings in Game One, giving up one hit in relief of starter Mark Thurmond, who had struggled all evening before leaving with the Padres behind 3-2. Hawkins was nearly flawless again Wednesday night. He got the last out in the first and retired 13 in a row before Kirk Gibson led off the sixth with a bloop single to left.

Blazers play at Mac Court

After a two-year hiatus, the Portland Trail Blazers will be visiting Eugene for a National Basketball Association pre-season game with the Los Angeles Clippers this Monday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in McArthur Court.

Portland has a new look this season under the tutelage of coach Jack Ramsay who took the Trail Blazers to a second place finish in the Pacific Division last year. The Blazers will showcase forward Kiki Vandeweghe who came to Portland in a trade from Denver.

Los Angeles is led by former Blazer Bill Walton.

The Clippers received Marques Johnson, Junior Bridgeman and Harvey Catchings in the trade and hope to make the playoffs. Johnson is considered one of the premiere forwards in the game.

It is not known if Portland's No. 1 draft choice, center Sam Bowie from the University of Kentucky, will play in the game. Bowie injured his ribs in a Blazer practice.

Portland will also probably be without All-Star guard Jim Paxson. Paxson is in the process of negotiating a new contract with the Trail Blazers for the upcoming season.

Tickets can be purchased at the University of Oregon Athletic Department Ticket Office or at GI Joe's on Belt Line Road in Eugene. Ticket prices are $10, $8 and $6 for Monday night's game.
