Bellisimo has high hopes for keglers

Although not well-known or publicized, the men's and women's varsity bowling teams are looking to have successful club sport seasons under head coach Lou Bellissimo and player-coach Kendra Hensley.

"They have the potential to become one of the greatest teams I've ever coached," boasts Bellissimo of his men's team. "However, at this point, they have a long way to go."

Bellisimo has returned to the helm of the men's team this year to coach on a volunteer basis. He had previously coached the Duck bowling team from 1950 to 1972, before moving to Lane Community College, where he taught for 12 years.

One of the men's teams' attributes this year will clearly be inexperience, as Bellissimo has welcomed all newcomers, aside from Mark Prewitt, who competed on the varsity team last year. Twelve men are presently practicing with the team, although only six members compete in the matches.

According to Bellissimo, acting team captain Bill Homans, Novert Voegle and Don Kelley are the top three bowlers on the squad. Kelley bowled the Ducks' high game with a pinfall of 183 when they hosted Oregon State Oct. 25. OSU's Dan Orden tallied the highest game in this season opener with 190, just ahead of Kelley.

Kelley scored the highest three game series of the match with a pinfall of 491, but despite his performance, the Beavers won 12-9, with a total pinfall of 2305 to the Ducks' 2295.

"They need to practice under pressure to become top bowlers," says Bellissimo of his team. "I just teach them the fundamentals, and leave the rest to them."

The men's team lost to Portland Community College Nov. 1 at Tigard, but returned home and bounced back to defeat Portland State 17-4.

The early season has proved to more difficult for the women's team thus far, as they have lost two matches and won one match by default. The Ducks have lost to both Oregon State and Portland CC, while recording a win over Portland State.

Hensley is acting as player-coach for the eight member women's team this year, although Bellissimo helps out at times.

Both teams compete in a conference which includes Lower Columbia, Mt. Hood, and Portland Community Colleges, OSU and Portland State. The men and women will host Mt. Hood CC Thursday. Home matches are played at the EMU lanes.
