

Women's Day to be hailed

In celebration of International Women's Day, the Rape Crisis Network will sponsor an afternoon of cultural activities and fund raising events on Saturday.

Although International Women's Day, a holiday that originated in the United States more than 70 years ago, officially takes place today, the network decided to hold the event on Saturday when more women would be able to attend, said Patty Palmerantz, finance coordinator at the network.

The festivities will begin with a choreographed poem of "Chicana," a dramatic performance celebrating Hispanic women using music, movement and poetry.

"Chicana" is a journey into the works of various women poets from around the country. It explores the poets' feelings toward their cultures, the way they love and their anglo development, Palmerantz said.

"Chicana" will be presented at 1:30 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. in the EMU Forum Room. The $3 admission charge benefits the Rape Crisis Network.

Between performances of the choreographed poem, a Cultural Celebration will be held at the Central Presbyterian Church, 1475 Ferry St., Palmerantz said. The celebration will feature cultural activities such as Native American and Israeli dancing, martial arts, Filipino poetry and hula dancing.

An auction featuring Portland auctioneer Helen Wood, and ethnic food and civic information booths also will be part of the celebration.

Items including a weekend at the coast, flying lessons, a sailboat ride and merchandise will be auctioned off.

All celebration events are free and open to the public.

Nation-to-nation diplomacy show to air on KLCC

Eugene's radio station KLCC will broadcast the third "Global Town Meeting," live from U.S. Radio in Los Angeles Sunday, March 10 at 6:30 p.m. The purpose of the show, which will be broadcast out of Los Angeles every second Sunday each month, is to improve U.S.-Soviet relations through citizen, rather than government diplomacy. The show will feature on-the-air call-ins, allowing Americans to talk directly to Soviet citizens in Moscow via an 800 number.

This Sunday's show will feature John Nicolopolous, a veteran liaison in U.S.-Soviet relations, Nannan Parry, former nuclear physicist and world-renowned expert on conflict resolution.

Talk to address local evacuation

City Manager Mike Gleason will give a speech titled "Community Planning for Potential Nuclear Disaster" today at 3:30 p.m. in EMU Room 101. The talk is sponsored by the University Arms Control Forum, and will address the federal government's plans for protecting citizens in the case of a nuclear attack.

"I was asked to comment on the re-location plan the federal government has recommended for this area, and what kind of facilities are available," Gleason says. He says he will conduct the session in a question-and-answer format.

"Paul Olum referred us to Gleason because he had spoken with Paul about community planning. There are some bizarre plans for the Eugene area in case of nuclear war. The population is supposed to be evacuated somewhere beyond Roseburg," says Peter O'Day of the University Arms Control Forum.

The UACF, which has changed its name from the Faculty Arms Control Group, brings speakers from around the nation to the University to address issues of nuclear war.

police beat

The following is a list of area crimes that have been reported to the Eugene Police since Feb. 24:

A white male was seen masturbating Feb. 24 outside of the main library by a female student. She said he was sitting on a bench at the bottom of the steps and began to jump up and down while continuing to masturbate as she walked by, Eugene Police Officer Bill Jennings said. She described the man as 5 feet 9 inches tall, 150 pounds with brown hair and brown eyes.

A Schwinn bicycle seat, valued at $18, was stolen from Boynton Hall between Feb. 25 and Feb. 27.

A white male was seen masturbating by a female student as she walked down the alley behind the Campbell Club at 1670 Alder St. Feb. 28. He was described as 6 feet tall, 155 pounds with blonde hair. He was wearing blue jeans and a flannel shirt.

A video cassette recorder, valued at $555, was stolen from the main library between March 1 and March 2 but was reported returned Tuesday.

A pregnant woman hurt her back while retreating from a dog tied to a post in the law school courtyard March 4. The dog was sniffing her hand, and she started to pull back, thinking the dog would bite her. The woman fell backwards over a bench, Jennings said.

A stereo valued at $300 was stolen from the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity between March 1 and March 3.

Thye-Wee Gn, 22, 1005 W. 7th Ave., Eugene, was arrested and charged with theft Thursday. Jennings said that on Oct. 31 the man allegedly deposited into his account two tax-return checks amounting to $532 that belonged to other people, and he kept the money. Jennings said Gn probably stole the checks from post office boxes. An investigation began when a person who was supposed to receive one of the checks complained about the long delay, only to find that the check had already been cashed.

Three bicycles were stolen.
