World-famous mime will be here tonight

Hayward Coleman, a dramatist who represents both the corporal mime tradition and physical comedy, will perform tonight in the Condon School gym at 8 p.m., as part of the Black Arts Festival, in conjunction with Mayfest '85.

The program, which is open to the public, is free, although donations will be accepted for U.S.A./Africa.

Coleman, who performs a series of stories utilizing his mastery of physical yoga techniques blended with a vaudeville comedy-acrobatics style, has performed with Diana Ross on her world tour. He also appeared at the 1984 Summer Olympic Games and has done one-man shows in Tunisia, Egypt, Lebanon, Canada and France, where he appeared on television twice.

Besides being a member of the United States Sports Acrobatics Federation, Coleman trained for two and a half years in France under Marcel Marceau and Etienne Decroux.

Rally supporters march today

Supporters of those arrested in the University's May 1 anti-apartheid rally will gather in the EMU Courtyard at 11:15 a.m. today and march to the municipal court, 777 Pearl St., at noon. Bail hearings for those arrested on trespassing charges begin at 1 p.m.

Students interested in the Free South Africa movement are welcome to attend.

Also coming up:

•Sheila Tobias, author of "Overcoming Math Anxiety," will give free lectures on the role of gender in peace issues and on math anxiety.

Tobias will speak on "Gender in Peace and Politics" tonight at 7:30 in Room 167 EMU.

On Friday, she will speak on the controversy over whether there are sexual differences in mathematical ability, at 2 p.m. in Room 204 Condon Hall.

•Jane Hunter, the publisher of "Israeli Foreign Affairs," will speak on the Israeli economic, military, and political ties with South Africa and Central America on Friday at 12:30 p.m. in Room 101 EMU.

•The Cathedral Forest Action Group will celebrate its first birthday with a campout this weekend at House Rock Campground on Highway 20, 25 miles East of Sweet Home.
