

Boy's funeral spurs more violence in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Three more people died in overnight rioting in the Cape Province, and violence spread to Pretoria after the burial Sunday of a 13-year-old black boy allegedly beaten to death by police on his way to a prayer service.

After the burial, youths fought riot police and threw up barricades of rocks and burning tires in Atteridgeville township west of Pretoria, where unconfirmed reports said two youths were killed.

Pretoria's two large black townships, Atteridgeville and Mamelodi, have stayed relatively calm through 14 months of nationwide black rioting that has left more than 760 dead, according to government figures.

But tension built in Atteridgeville — population about 100,000 — after the death Saturday night of Moses Moope. Moope's family said he was beaten to death by a white policeman while on his way to a church prayer service. Police headquarters confirmed a policeman was suspended pending an inquiry.

The township exploded in violence after 15,000 people turned out for the funeral. Police fired repeated barrages of tear gas at rock-throwing youths manning the burning barricades, said a reporter at the scene.

A reporter, who spoke on condition of not being identified, said police arrested about 40 blacks before the rioting subsided.

The boy's father, Samuei Moope, said Moses went to pick up a friend for the conservative Zion Christian Church all-night service when a police car approached. According to a homeowner who said he witnessed the incident, Moses and three friends scattered, but a policeman caught the boy in a nearby yard and beat him while the boy begged. "Please, sir, don't kill me, I'm going to church to pray."

Second Soviet killed, unknown caller claims

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An anonymous caller claiming to speak for the kidnappers of four Soviets said Sunday they have killed a second captive and dumped his body near the Cite Sportive stadium in south Beirut, the Voice of Lebanon radio reported.

authenticity of the call," said a police officer searching with flashlights among piles of rubble surrounding the sports complex.

But a police search after nightfall was called off after an hour when no corpse was found.

The body of a Soviet diplomat, consular attache Arkady Katkov, 32, was dumped at the bomb-blasted stadium Oct. 2, two days after he and the three other Soviets were abducted in Moslem west Beirut.

The Christian radio station quoted the caller as saying in Arabic, "One captive was executed 15 minutes ago. His body is lying at the Cite Sportive. The police are invited to go there to pick it up."

Anonymous callers who said they represented the Islamic Liberation Organization told radio stations the group had kidnapped the Soviets.

Five police patrols and Shiite Moslem Amal militiamen combed the area, surrounded by muddy empty lots and garbage dumps, but found no body.

The callers said the goal was to pressure Syria, Moscow's main Arab ally, to call off a leftist offensive against Sunni Moslem fundamentalists in the northern port of Tripoli. A ceasefire was called in Tripoli a day after Katkov's body was found.
