Berkeley mayor to speak Monday

The mayor of Berkeley, Calif., will be in Eugene on Monday to speak on some of the pressing issues of our time.

Gus Newport, a long-time social activist and peace advocate, will speak at a news conference at the Clergy and Laity Concerned office, located at 372 W. 10th Ave., at 10:30 a.m. He will follow this with a 7:30 p.m. speech at the University in Room 167 EMU, where he will discuss the issues of racism, progressive politics and American policy in Central America.

Newport currently is leading the fight for the civil rights of minorities and the disabled in what is nationally recognized as one of the most creative and important municipal experiments in the history of local government.

Newport's speech is being sponsored by the Clergy and Laity Concerned as well as several campus groups.
