

UO Bookstore

CASH FOR BOOKS

TEXTBOOK
BUYBACK
EVERYDAY
IN THE BOOK DEPT.
LOBBY

Nebraska Book Co.,
Wholesale Book Buyers will be here
FINALS WEEK
DECEMBER 16 - 21
Come in early for fast service

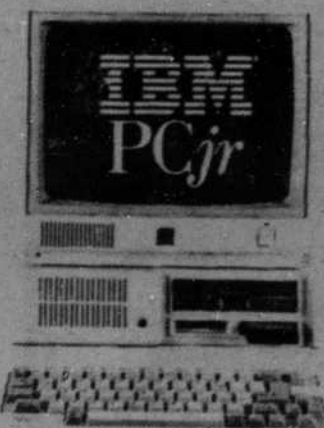

UO
BOOKSTORE

Students.. on your marks..get set GO !!!

Enter the world of IBM with the

IBM PCjr

Enhanced Model

Only $698⁰⁰

or

$25⁰⁰ a month

on approved credit with $100.00 down

Prices good thru Dec 31, 1985

IBM RGB color monitor

- IBM's most affordable—and compact—personal computer
- Double sided 360K diskette drive
- 128K of user memory—expandable to 512K
- Keyboard offers a choice of cord or cordless operation
- 2 cartridge program slots
- 15 ports for add-on options

The IBM PCjr is an affordable entry into the world of IBM. It runs thousands of IBM compatible software programs, including Lotus 1-2-3 and Wordperfect.

Turn your PCjr into an adult PC for peanuts.

- * Tecmar Jr. Mate (384 K) only $199⁰⁰
- * Racore Second Disk Drive only $399⁰⁰

844 Olive St.
Downtown Eugene

485 - 5591

1 800 647 -7770

ComputerLand
The one thing to know about computers.

Sports

Ducks try to corral Cowboys Saturday

By Robert Collias
Of the Emerald

The Oregon men's basketball team will return to the friendly confines of McArthur Court Saturday night to take on the University of Wyoming Cowboys.

The homecoming comes just in time for Oregon coach Don Monson and his beleaguered troops who just completed a three game road swing and came home empty-handed.

Oregon left for the road swing to Texas Tech University, Northern Arizona University, and Notre Dame University with a 2-0 record built on wins over University of the Pacific and Rutgers University at McArthur Court, but now the Ducks sport a 2-3 record after the tough road-trip.

As Oregon looks to get back on the winning track Saturday night against the Cowboys the Ducks will be counting on sophomore guard Anthony Taylor to continue his recent tear on the offensive end of the court.

Taylor has been Oregon's only consistent performer offensively so far this year as he is averaging 17.6 points per game and has been the leading scorer for the Ducks in every game except the Pacific contest when a nagging foot problem caused by an infected blister flared up.

Taylor's backcourt mate Rick Osborn has also been a key to Oregon's success.

Osborn has looked good in both Oregon wins this season, and is averaging 12 points per game as the Ducks second leading scorer. In the one game that the Ducks played badly, at Northern Arizona, Osborn was shut down almost completely as he shot zero for seven from the field and had only one point the entire evening.

Against the Cowboys the Ducks are facing a team that finished 15-14 a year ago and return three starters including 6-foot-5 sophomore sensation Fennis Dembo, who averaged 13.5 points and 7.9 rebounds per game last year.

Dembo has been bothered by an ankle injury and has averaged only 5.7 points and 4 rebounds per game after six contests this season.

Wyoming is paced this year by 6-foot-11 center Eric Leckner who is averaging 16.7 points and 6 rebounds per game.

The game will be the first road game of the season for the Cowboys after six contests at home.

If the Ducks are to get back on the winning track they will have no better time or place to do it than 7:35 p.m. Saturday night at McArthur Court.

Sports shorts

The Oregon women's basketball team is now offering a student season ticket package for $8.

The Lady Ducks will open their home season Saturday night at 5 p.m. against Cal-Poly Pomona as the first part of a doubleheader. The Oregon men's basketball team will take on the University of Wyoming in the second game of the doubleheader at 7:35 p.m.

With the purchase of a women's student season ticket, the ticket holder will be entitled to stay for the men's game following. This doubleheader will be the first of three such opportunities upcoming.

The second doubleheader will be Dec. 21 when both the Oregon men and women meet Brigham Young University with the womens game at 5 p.m. followed by the men at 7:35 p.m.

The third doubleheader will be Jan. 31 when the women face Fresno State University and the men take on Stanford University.

Oregon's All-Pac-10 flanker Lew Barnes was named to the Associated Press second team All-American Team Monday.

Oregon cross country freshman sensation Cathy Schiro has withdrawn from school it was announced Thursday.

Self Service Copies Happy Hour

3¢
8 1/2 x 11

3¢
8 1/2 x 14

5pm - closing Mon.-Fri.
All Day Sunday

kinko's®

860 E. 13th

344-7894