Greek Endorsement Committee backs ASUO candidates Nelson/Cameron

The Greek Endorsement Committee, an eight-member group of students representing the Greek community, endorsed candidates Steve Nelson and Caitlin Cameron for the 1986-87 ASUO president/vice president ticket.

The committee made its decision late Thursday night after two days of interviews.

Nelson, a junior studying history and rhetoric, is a Student Senate member as well as a member of University President Paul Olum's advisory council. Nelson is on the ASUO Student Activities Board and has served on several ASUO committees.

Cameron, a senior business administration and management decision major, is the ASUO finance coordinator and is active in ASUO programs. She is also president of the Golden Key Honor Society and head of the computer registration task force.

"We feel confident and comfortable with our choice. It was evident throughout the discussions," said Stacy James, a committee member.

James described Nelson and Cameron as a moderate ticket, one that would not swing greatly in one direction or another. She added that having a male/female, Greek/independent ticket will give a broad spectrum of student representation.

First-hand experience and the demonstrated ability of Nelson and Cameron were also considerations, said Ray Veillet, another endorsement committee member.

The committee also endorsed one-year Incidental Fee Committee candidates David McDonald, a junior pre-business major; Katy Howard, a first-year law student; and Duane Dungannon, a sophomore journalism major.

Also receiving endorsements for the EMU Board of Directors were C.B. Key, a senior business major; Larry Johnson, a sophomore pre-business major; and Joern Wettern, a graduate political science major.

The committee endorsed Wendy Williams for Olum's advisory council.

Skateboarders to compete Saturday

Fifteen of the top free-style skateboarding professionals will be coming to Eugene on Saturday to compete in the first annual Oregon Pro-Am Street-style competition being sponsored by the Willamette Sports Center, a local shop that sells skateboarding and biking equipment.

Along with the pros, there will be about 80 amateurs in the event. The competition is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. in the parking lot of the Black Angus restaurant, 2133 Franklin Blvd. Corey Pollard, of Willamette Sports, says the amateurs will probably compete in the morning.

"Basically, the competitors will be going through routines on different ramps. There will be a take-off ramp, a quarter-pipe and a roll-over or wave ramp," Pollard says.

He adds they will also be judged on "how well they can launch over my car." Pollard says his "obnoxious" 1960 Plymouth will be part of the course, and the competitors will be jumping over and onto the car.

The routines will be limited to a minute and a half each, and a group of the best local skateboarders will judge the professional competition while the pros will judge the amateur competition.

The pros attending the competition are part of six different touring professional teams that are sponsored by various skateboard manufacturers. The six teams coming will be from Vision, Madrid, Powell, Alva, Blockhead and Santa Cruz.

Pollard says although the competition is in its first year and may not measure up to the standards of many other competitions, the organizers are doing their best, and the pros he has talked to are "really pumped" about coming.

Police beat

The following is a list of University-area crimes reported to the Eugene Police Department since April 1:

The University Bookstore received a bomb threat April 1 at 10 a.m. Police evacuated the building and conducted a search, but no bomb was found.

A duffle bag and contents valued at $220 were stolen from a vehicle parked near Henderson dormitory April 1. The items were taken while a student was moving into the building.

Two oxygen tanks and an acetylene tank were stolen from the fine arts department between April 1 and 2. The tanks, which contain materials used in welding classes, were valued at $585.

A wallet and contents valued at $150 were stolen from a vehicle parked on 18th Avenue and Onyx Street April 2 between 2:30 and 3 p.m.

A wallet and contents and clothing were stolen from a men's locker room in Esslinger Hall April 2 between 5 and 6 p.m. The wallet and contents were valued at $176 and the clothing was valued at $145.

Joseph Demetrios Deligiorgis, age 20, 344 E. 14th Ave., was arrested and charged with Burglary II April 3 at 7 p.m. after he was found in the EMU Ballroom after closing hours. No items were reported missing, but police said an on-scene investigation revealed that Deligiorgis intended to burglarize the property.

A female student riding her bicycle near the Main Library Saturday was accosted by two male suspects at 4:50 p.m. One suspect grabbed her bicycle while the other yelled obscenities and told her to get off the bicycle. Two other students intervened, and the suspects fled on foot. They are described as transient in appearance.
