Jarvik-7 patient dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Schroeder, the longest-living recipient of a permanent artificial heart, died Wednesday after suffering strokes that crippled his ability to breathe. He was 54.

Schroeder, whose 620 days of life on the plastic-and-metal Jarvik-7 pump were beset by strokes, was the last survivor among five patients given the device as a permanent substitute for a human heart.

NOW opposes Scalia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Organization for Women on Wednesday urged Senate rejection of Antonin Scalia's nomination to the Supreme Court, saying he has shown hostility toward the enforcement of anti-discrimination laws.

But a blue-ribbon panel of lawyers and law professors praised Scalia and urged that his nomination be confirmed.

Airman found guilty

BEALE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An airman was found guilty of espionage Wednesday for passing classified Air Force documents to undercover FBI agents posing as Soviet spies.

Airman 1st Class Bruce Ott, 26, faces up to 32 years in prison. Ott was arrested Jan. 22 in a Davis, Calif., motel when he allegedly passed a copy of an Air Force Strategic Air Command regulation relating to the SR-71 spy plane to two FBI agents posing as Soviets.

Youngster saves pal

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — Five-year-old Brent Meldrum can't pronounce Heimlich maneuver — he calls it "the time-life remover" — but he knew how to use it to save the life of a pal choking on a piece of candy.

"She (turned) almost full blue," Brent said Wednesday of 6-year-old Tanya Branden, who got a piece of hard candy lodged in her throat.

Brent, who weighs 45 pounds, slipped his arms around Tanya from behind Monday evening, clasped his hands together and squeezed, lifting the 41-pound girl off the floor. "I lifted her up and banged her on her feet. She bended over and she coughed and it plopped out," the youngster said.

Sacred Heart sues

EUGENE (AP) — Sacred Heart General Hospital has filed a lawsuit seeking $13,800 to cover medical bills for a Coos County jail inmate who died June 29 after pulling out his right eye.

The hospital claims it has been waiting more than a year for payment of the bill for treatment of James Vining.

Coos County argues that the state should pay the bill, because the state had decided to prosecute Vining, making him a state prisoner held temporarily in the county jail.
