Carson, Walton, Hamilton get sprucing

By Lisa Kosse
Of the Emerald

Dormitory residents returning to Carson, Walton or Hamilton complexes may notice some changes because of a summer renovation project in which more than $1 million was spent to improve the living areas in accordance to suggestions made by students.

According to Suzanne Tamiesie, director of family housing, the reasons for renovation are twofold: first, to provide better service for the residents and second, to ensure the longevity and structural integrity of the buildings.

The changes included improving the handicap-access ramp and widening some doors to increase accessibility to Carson Hall.

In addition, blue signs were put up to indicate Carson and Bean complex's handicapped entrances. Carson also was reroofed, remortared and generally cleaned up.

Each of the rooms in Carson was painted with one of five color schemes, and new desktops and countertops were installed. The showerheads were raised, and the heating system was expanded to include the bathrooms. New windows were installed in the cafeteria, and new door frames were added for additional support.

The outside of the building was sealed to keep out structure-damaging moisture, and a new sprinkler system is being installed.

The south side of Walton complex also is being reroofed, and some work is being done in the rooms including painting.

Hamilton complex rooms received new fluorescent lights and a fresh coat of paint.

Carson Area Director Lou Vijayakar is pleased with the work, she said.

"The outside looks great," she said.

It is the first time in 40 years that Carson has been completely renovated, Tamiesie said.

Students who were involved in the decision-making process were asked what changes they felt needed to be made. When all work is completed, students will be asked to fill out an evaluation.

Contracts for the work were awarded by the state and were bid on by private contracting firms. Firms that presented bids include Hyland and Sons Inc., Early Roofing Service Inc., Snyder Roofing and McKenzie Commercial Contractors.

The work is "100 percent" complete according to plans, Tamiesie said.

Future plans include similar renovations for Walton North, Hamilton and Bean complexes. There are also smaller on-going projects which include a study room in Moore Hall and a TV room in the Earl complex.
