Mets rally for title

NEW YORK (AP)—Ray Knight ignited a three-run rally in the seventh inning with a home run, climaxing another New York comeback and sending the Mets to their second World Series championship with a 8-5 victory Monday night over the Boston Red Sox.

The Mets scored three runs in the sixth inning, two on a single by Keith Hernandez, to chase two-game Series winner Bruce Hurst and tie the score 3-3.

Then Knight, voted most valuable player in the series, led off the seventh with his third hit of the game, a homer to left-center that started the Mets to their first World Series title since 1969.

Hernandez capped the inning with a sacrifice fly for a 6-3 lead.

The Mets still had one last obstacle to overcome as the Red Sox rallied for two runs in the eighth on Dwight Evans' double, and had the tying run on second base with no one out.

But Jesse Orosco came out of the bullpen and got Rich Gedman on a line drive to second, struck out Dave Henderson and got pinch-hitter Don Baylor to ground out to short. He pitched a perfect ninth for his second save of the Series.

Darryl Strawberry led off the eighth with a homer off Boston reliever Al Nipper. Orosco, batting for only the fourth time this season, singled in Knight with the eighth New York run.

"It doesn't get any better than this," Manager Davey Johnson said.

"We deserve it. We had the best record in baseball. We should be champions. Boston is a great baseball team, but the good guys won. This is what we were sweating for," he said.

"This has to be the greatest-Met team of all time," said Mets' first baseman Keith Hernandez, who drove in three runs in the decisive game. "Tonight, I said to myself, if I get a chance with men on base, I'm gonna do it. I had great confidence."
