Dear Mom and Dad,
Guess what? Your daughter has become a brain. Suddenly,
I no longer have problems spelling. Or my thoughts.
I just dash off papers. And they come out Now, instead of getting comments like scatter brained or confused, they say:
—“Original ideas, and very creative.” Which brings me to the point of this letter. You said, if I got an A you'd buy me a car. Does an A+ get me a gas credit card, too?
