

"Want to see some of America's finest?
Then spend a little time with the USO."

"That's what I did. Let me tell you, these folks are proud that they don't need a little help now and then. You know, someone to talk to. When they come in. Their travel centers and family services bring a little bit of home. They haven't been there in a long time. That's important. And that's why the USO is here."
