What do you think about Lane County's refusal to participate in a statewide anonymous AIDS testing program?

'If the program will act as a safety valve to curb the hysteria, then Lane County should get with the program.'

— Steve Waste, graduate student, public policy and management

---

'In my personal opinion, I would be more inclined to have the anonymous testing, because AIDS has gotten so much exposure... it has a lot of negative connotations.'

— Susan Thompson, post-graduate, education

'It's kind of the same level as Planned Parenthood as far as people who come in for help. It's volunteer, and if they want (to be tested), the county should not have to know. I think people should have privacy if they want it.'

— Tracy Brink, graduate student, architecture

'It's a personal choice. I think it should be however the individual wants it. I think it might stop people from coming in to get tested.'

— Shelley Hartman, sophomore, biology
