Student enrollment profile

The following graphs were created using information listed in "A Profile of Students at the University of Oregon," a report released by the Office of the Registrar last November. The registrar's office releases a similar report each term.

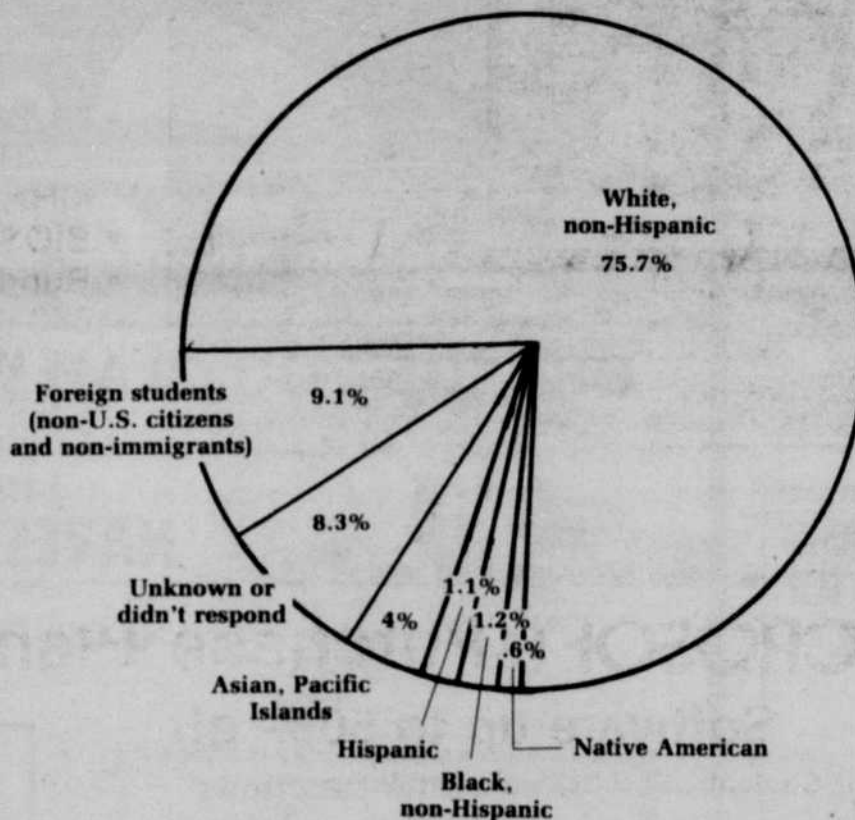

The bar graph breaks student enrollment down into men, women, undergraduates, graduates, residents, non-residents, full-time and part-time.

graduates, residents, non-residents, full-time and part-time.

The pie chart breaks student enrollment down according to ethnic background.

Other information listed in the student profile but not listed here includes course enrollments, academic performance, degrees and certificates awarded and a profile of the entering freshman class.
