

Miller tosses three TDs in Senior Bowl outing

Chris Miller may have completed his college football eligibility at Oregon last fall with virtually every passing and total offense record under his belt, but the stalwart quarterback is continuing to shine on the gridiron.

Miller threw for 174 yards and three touchdowns for the North squad in the annual Senior Bowl college all-star football game Saturday in Mobile, Ala.

Although the South edged the North 42-38, Miller's individual performance earned him the North's offensive player of the game award. He will receive a $1,000 bonus for the honor, in addition to his $1,500 for playing in the all-star game.

Miller, who completed 10 of 20 passes in the game, threw two touchdown strikes in the first half to propel the North to a 24-14 lead — an eight-yarder to Michigan's Paul Jokisch and a 22-yarder to Colorado's Jon Embree.

The 6-foot-2, 195-pounder did throw one interception (to Alabama's Britton Cooper) early in the fourth quarter with the North trailing 35-21.

Miller pulled the North within reaching distance on a 31-yard touchdown pass to Jokisch with only 20 seconds remaining in the game.

The North even regained possession after recovering the ensuing on-side kick, but time ran out after Miller threw two incompletions.

Elevating his chances that he could be a first-round selection in April's National Football League draft with his performance in the Senior Bowl, Miller earlier opened the eyes of professional scouts after playing in the Hula Bowl.

He threw for 214 yards and a touchdown to help the West to a 16-14 win Jan. 10 in Honolulu.

Oregon State standout Tim Glennie, 11-3. The upstart Ducks suddenly found themselves in front 7-0 early in the meet.

Then the Beavers woke and reeled off four straight wins to take a 15-7 lead.

Chuck Kearney, a landmark of stability this season for Oregon, put the Ducks back in the meet by pinning 167-pounder Steve Lander in 1:35. The pin trimmed the Beavers' lead to two, 15-13.

The 177-pound match proved to be the Ducks' back-breaker when OSU's Fred King overcame a 3-0 lead by Oregon's Dan Martin after two periods. In the final period, King reversed his way to a 3-3 tie, then received a technical point near the end to win.

Oregon returns to action Wednesday at McArthur Court when it hosts Boise State University and Pacific University at 7 p.m.

leads as big as nine points, but the Ducks still had their chances.

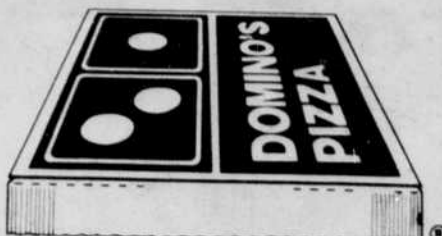

With 4:45 showing on the game clock, Rick Osborn's three-point play pulled the Ducks within two, 55-53, but they never could get any closer.

The Ducks return for a four-game homestand this week when they host the University of Washington Thursday and Washington State University Saturday.
