

Two students killed in car wreck

Two University students, Cynthia Marie Lind and Eric James Nilson, were killed Thursday night when their car collided with another car on Highway 99.

Lind, 20, of Corvallis and Nilson, 18, of Oregon City were returning from Corvallis when Lind's Honda, which was southbound on Highway 99 North, collided with a Camaro, driven by Don Ray Miller, 43, of Eugene, traveling east on Meadowview Road. The two passengers in the Camaro received minor injuries and were not hospitalized.

Lind and Nilson were returning to Eugene from having dinner with Lind's father in Corvallis when the accident occurred about five miles east of Eugene shortly after 8 p.m., said Paul Chatalas, Nilson's roommate.

Lind, a freshman history major, was the daughter of Peter Sandrock, Benton County district attorney. She worked at the University Student Health Center.

Nilson, a freshman pre-major, worked with the American Civil Liberties Union.

Chatalas described Nilson, who lived in Dunn Hall, as a "conscientious, quality person."

"There is a collective sense of loss" among his dormmates, Chatalas said. Many of the residents plan to attend his funeral, which will be held today. Lind's funeral was held on Sunday, he said.

No citations had been issued as of Sunday afternoon, and the accident is still under investigation. However, a preliminary investigation indicates Miller failed to stop at a stop sign, police said.

Powell said ownership of the briefcase has not been determined but that Myers was arrested because officials determined he did carry it into the building.

A graduate of OSU and a resident of Albany, Myers had been an OSU employee for 10 years. He maintained computers at OSU's Milne Computer Center before being suspended with pay pending the outcome of this investigation.

If an investigation proves Myers was set up, Hunter said officials will make a public statement clearing his name.

Kuebrich said if officials find Myers innocent of the attempted arson charge, there is "very little" Myers can do. "When he's vindicated," Kuebrich said, "he still will have lived through the horror."
